Trudeau Warns of More Terror

Canada Police Hunting Two Suspects

MONTREAL (AP) — Thousands of police and soldiers combed Quebec Province today with warrants for a taxi driver and a schoolteacher wanted for the kidnapping of British Trade Commissioner James Cross and murdered provincial Labor Minister Pierre Laporte.

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau predicted more terrorist violence from the Quebec Liberation Front, or FLQ. But he said "These vicious men" will be found "and will be dealt with in the calm and dispassionate atmosphere of Canadian Justice."

Police said early today they believe they have found the hideout where terrorist kidnappers held Labor Minister Pierre Laporte before murdering him Saturday.

The police began a thorough investigation of the abandoned frame bungalow in the little town of St. Hubert, eight miles south of Montreal, after army demolition experts made sure it contained no booby traps.

"We believe it is where Laporte was held," said Det. Sgt. Albert Lisacek. Laporte's body was found about half a mile away.

Quebec police issued an all-points bulletin late Sunday saying Marc Carbonneau, 37, the cab driver, and Paul Rose, 27, were charged with participation in both abductions. The slaying of Laporte, whose body was found in the trunk of an auto Saturday night, was not mentioned in the warrant.

Both suspects were described as French-speaking Canadians. There was no explanation why they were charged with both kidnappings, since communiques from the Quebec Liberation Front have indicated that separate FLQ factions carried them out.

By early today, police had rounded up 319 persons in a manhunt launched after the federal government invoked the War Measures Act Friday and outlawed the FLQ. More than 180 were picked up in Montreal, the rest in Quebec City, Sherbrooke, Hull and five other Quebec towns.

Rose was involved in a 1968 controversy at Perce, on the Gaspé Peninsula, when 25 young people occupied a building. Abner Biard, Perce mayor, said the youths bothered tourists and when he and others protested, he was threatened by six or seven organizations, among them the FLQ.

Laporte, 49, was abducted as he played football with his children on Oct. 10. Five days earlier, James Richard Cross, also 49, the British trade commissioner in Montreal, was taken from his home.

The FLQ made seven ransom demands, among them release and safe conduct to Cuba or Algeria for 23 persons convicted or accused of terrorist crimes. An FLQ communique which led police to Laporte's body in a Montreal suburb Saturday night said he was "executed" because the government refused to comply.

While refusing to free the 23 men demanded by the kidnappers, the government offered to parole five of them and also promised the kidnappers safe conduct for themselves to Cuba or Algeria if Cross and Laporte were returned safe. After Laporte's body was found, Trudeau's government announced that the offer of safe conduct to Cross's kidnappers still stood. Police released the text Sunday night of a letter from Cross reporting that he was "alive and in good health." But he warned: "The only danger for my life is if the police find out where I am and want to interrogate me. The FLQ will not give up and I will be the first dead."

"The authorities will never find the place where I am held in captivity. I am a prisoner like the FLQ members and prisoners in jail."

The letter and an FLQ commu-

niquette were found in a church

Sunday. Trudeau went on television Sunday night for the second time in 18 hours and vowed that his government will foil any attempts "to destroy our nation."

"We must expect that these vicious men may attempt again to shake our will in the days ahead," the prime minister said. "I speak for all of you when I say that any such attempt shall fail."

Three FLQ Autos Seen Traveling in New York

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (UPI)—Three cars wanted in connection with the kidnapping and murder of a Quebec labor minister were reportedly seen Sunday traveling through New York State and believed en route to either Pennsylvania or New York City.

The cars were first reported at 11:30 a.m. in the northern New York village of Antwerp on Route 11 about 15-20 miles from the Canadian border. Two youngsters told the St. Lawrence County sheriff's office they saw three cars answering the wanted description headed south.

At 3:30 p.m., cars answering the description were seen by a woman motorist at the junction of Routes 17 and 81, the Quickway, "about two miles southeast of Binghamton," state police at Ferndale reported.

Route 81 can be easily picked up from Route 11 and it is the quickest way from northern New York down to the Binghamton area.

The woman told police she saw the cars and recognized their description and number plates from a radio broadcast. She said she started looking for a state police station to report to, but didn't come across one until she was in Ferndale, located off Route 17, about 70 miles from where she saw the vehicles.

"From that location they could have gone almost anywhere," a trooper said, "to New York along Route 17 or Pennsylvania along 81."

The woman told police she "was sure of the license plates" and the cars contained "seven to nine subjects," the trooper said.

A warning to look out for three cars was given by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. They identified the cars as a 1964 Volkswagen bearing the green and white Quebec license number 4L-4815; a 1966 Meteor with the plate 3S-0780, and a 1968 Volvo with the plate 1M-3033.

The cars were not believed to have been used directly in the terrorist kidnapping and murder of Minister Pierre Laporte in Quebec but the occupants were sought by the RCMP as suspects.

The RCMP reported the occupants of the cars wanted to be believed armed and dangerous. The trooper at Ferndale said he couldn't release the woman's name.

"These guys killed a minister," he said. "They wouldn't hesitate about a housewife."

Lindsay Supports Goldberg

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay today announced his support for Democrat Arthur J. Goldberg for governor.

The Republican mayor made his announcement at a Gracie Mansion news conference two weeks and a day before the Nov. 3 election.

Goldberg is the candidate of the Democratic and Liberal parties, running against Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller who is seeking re-election for a fourth term.

The mayor said he was endorsing Goldberg and his running mate, Basil Paterson, because they "offer the best chance to end our annual role as a beggar for survival in Albany."

Goldberg, former U.S. Supreme Court justice and U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, was one of the big-name Democrats who supported Lindsay in his fusion bid for reelection last year.

Lindsay lost the Republican primary to State Sen. John J. Marchi, who ran on the GOF and Conservative party lines but won the election by defeating Marchi and Mario Procaccino, a conservative Democrat.

Procaccino has come out for Rockefeller for governor. (Earlier Story Page 3)

MARVIN AND THE FORMER PAMELA GRIFFIN CUT THE CAKE (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Marvin Weds Hometown, ... Woodstock Surprise

By TOBIE GEERTSEMA

WOODSTOCK Academy Award-winning actor Lee Marvin told a news conference Saturday he would never marry again.

But the previous night, guesting on the David Frost television show, Marvin played one of those games invented by psychologists and aimed at pinpointing personality types. Marvin's answer, Frost told a giggling audience, proved the superstar was a man who put the human heart above all else.

And the human heart apparently won out over the news conference remark. Sunday, Marvin, 45, married thrice-wed Pamela Griffin, 39, his hometown sweetheart of the 1940's in Woodstock.

Marvin, who had been married once previously, and his new bride were wed in a simple ceremony at the International Hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada, Sunday night. The star, who won an Oscar for his dual role as a has-been gunfighter and a tough, silver-nosed villain in "Cat Ballou," was in Woodstock last week to visit his illing father, Lamont Marvin of Bearsville.

The actor, who began his career in a small part in a charity show at Woodstock's

Town Hall, went on to a Hollywood career in tough guy roles, culminating in "Cat Ballou." For his recent role in "Paint Your Wagon," in which he sang for the first time, he was paid $1-million. His latest film, just released, is the western "Monte Walsh," and it was at a news conference for this film that he told reporters he would never marry again.

Even so, the marriage did not come as a total surprise to some of the couple's Woodstock friends. Marvin was a frequent visitor at his father's home over the years, and he and his new bride had remained good friends during the time he was earning an international reputation as one of Hollywood's biggest stars.

Only last week, the two had dinner together in a local restaurant. Still, the bride's mother, Mrs. Jack Feeley of Ohayo Mountain Road, Woodstock, told The Daily Freeman this morning that she had heard nothing about the marriage herself except what she had heard on the radio. She expected a long distance phone call from the newlyweds today, she said.

The couple first met when the bride was a still a teenager and Marvin was working as a plumber's assistant in Woodstock. A steady twosome during those early years, their paths diverged when Marvin left home to act on Broadway and go on to Hollywood, and the then Miss Feeley married another young actor and moved to New York.

She later returned to Woodstock when that marriage ended in divorce and has mostly remained in residence there with her four children since. Her voice was familiar to local radio listeners as the co-host of the now defunct "This is Woodstock" show and a children's show in which she read bedtime stories.

An attractive and youthful-looking grandmother (her daughter by her first marriage has a toddler son), the new Mrs. Marvin and her famous husband are honeymooning at his Malibu Beach house in California. Marvin also owns a home and property on a South Pacific island, purchased after he made the film, "Hell in the Pacific."

A Salute to Women

A special tabloid saluting the achievements of clubwomen will be published by The Daily Freeman tomorrow.

Compiled and edited by Dorothy A. Narel, woman's page editor, the section will highlight distaff activities in Ulster and Northern Dutchess Counties.

Tuesday's publication will be The Freeman's Third Annual Clubwoman's Edition.

In conjunction with the tabloid, club presidents will be entertained at a tea in the afternoon at the Governor Clinton Hotel. They will meet key members of The Freeman staff and participate in an open workshop on publicity.

Joan Patenaude, lyric soprano and affiliate artist at West Point Academy will present a program and club representatives will receive the 1970 Women's Club Directory compiled by The Freeman Woman's Department.

Be sure to read about new clubs in the area and see what other women are doing in tomorrow's 1970 Clubwoman's Edition.

Council Hearing Set Tuesday

By HUGH REYNOLDS

KINGSTON
The Kingston Common Council will hold a public hearing Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Council Chambers at city hall on a proposal from a pair of Kingston funeral directors to build in the Uptown Urban Renewal project.

The proposal has been submitted by James M. Murphy, owner of the James M. Murphy Funeral Home at 176 Broadway and Francis J. McCord, owner of a funeral home of the same name at 99 Henry Street. Third man in the corporation, named Plaza Memorial Inc., is Salvatore Provenzano, owner of Chick's Rendezvous at 765 Broadway.

The corporation was approved as an eligible and qualified urban renewal developer at the October meeting of the Common Council. They propose to build a new funeral home with an estimated value of $250,000 on the corner of Hurley Avenue and Taylor Street in the Uptown Project. The 36,000 square foot site is being sold by the Urban Renewal Agency for $20,000 to the proposed developers.

The public hearing will be presided over by Alderman-at-Large T. Robert Gallo, the president of the Common Council. The order of events is to read the public notice published in The Daily Freeman describing the property boundaries and the agreement between the developers and the agency. Then the floor is thrown open for comments from the audience, first those in favor, followed by those opposed to the project.

The Council will then study the comments made at the public hearing before formally voting on the issue. There will be no vote taken on the proposal at tomorrow night's public hearing; that will probably come at the November meeting of the Council. The Council will not meet on its regular date in November, the first Tuesday of the month since that is Election Day. The aldermen will meet on Nov. 10, the following Tuesday.

Plaza Memorial Inc., if approved by the Council and then later by state and federal officials, will become the third privately financed construction in the Uptown Project. The other two are the $2 million Metropolitan Insurance Company building off Hurley Avenue and the $325,000 Goodyear Service Center on North Front Street.

Cement Plant Fire
One of Three Blazes

KINGSTON
Five fire units in command of Deputy Chief Robert Maines were dispatched to the Hudson

Cement Plant Corp., on North Street at 4:02 p.m. Sunday after electric wires shorted and burned on the second floor of the 2½-story building located near the Hudson River.

Firefighters used three booster lines to extinguish the fire which damaged electric paneling and caused considerable smoke. The fire originated in a frame and fiber glass enclosure. Firemen returned to their stations shortly before 5:30 p.m.

At 7:17 p.m. Saturday firemen responded to a call from the Y. M. C. A., and on arrival they found fire in an ice-cream vending machine owned by the Kingston Vending Machine Co., owned by Joseph Rapp. The damage was confined to refrigeration unit of the machine. A short circuit in wiring was blamed for the fire. Deputy Chief Hugh Greer was in charge of firemen.

Firemen also were sent to the East O'Reilly Street Laundry mat at 6:39 a.m. Sunday after a short circuit in a motor of a clothes dryer caused smoke in the building next to Central Fire Station. CO-2 chemicals Y. M. C. A. were used to check the small fire. Deputy Greer was in command of firemen from Engine 1.

Hold Paltz Students
On Drug Charges

By WALTER S. CLARK

NEW PALTZ
Three college students were arrested Saturday by village police on charges of criminal possession of dangerous drugs in the sixth degree involving marijuana, and another student at State University College here was taken into custody on a narcotics charge on Sunday.

Allen Henry Rubenstein, 18, of 22nd Avenue, Whitestone, was arrested yesterday by Patrolman Wayne O'Brien on a charge of possessing more than one quarter of an ounce of marijuana, authorities said. After his arrest the youth allegedly assaulted the officer and attempted to escape from custody.

In addition to the drug count, Rubenstein was booked by O'Brien for second degree assault and second degree escape. Arraigned before Town Justice Rexford Schneider, the youth pleaded innocent. He was ordered held in $1,000 bail on each of the three charges pending and a hearing at a later date.

Another investigation by O'Brien resulted in the arrests of 17-year-old Stanley Rosen, of 89 Thayer Street, New York City, Melvyn Fred Lorch, 18, of 23-09 Rayburn Road, New York City.

Police accused the three defendants of criminal possession of marijuana in the sixth degree. Lorch also was charged with possessing a blackjack, police said.

The three were arraigned before Town Justice Schneider, who fixed bail at $250 on each charge and adjourned hearing until a later date. In lieu of bail the defendants were committed to the County Jail, it was reported.

John Lindsay's Non-Position Main Gubernatorial Topic

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay's non-position on the gubernatorial race has become the main topic of discussion of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and his opponent, Arthur J. Goldberg.

The three senatorial candidates have clashed on federal spending and the Nixon administration's policies.

On Sunday, Rockefeller urged Lindsay, a fellow Republican, to stay neutral in the gubernatorial race.

"If I were him, I'd sit this one out," the governor said when asked about reports that Lindsay might endorse Goldberg, the Democratic and Liberal candidate.

Goldberg promptly called the remark "extremely inappropriate" and said, "Mr. Lindsay is well able to make up his own mind."

A spokesman for the mayor said only that Lindsay would make a statement on the camaign before election day, which is two weeks off.

The candidates for the U.S. Senate met in their second television debate, an hour-long broadcast on WGBS-TV.

They disagreed on recognition of Communist China and on controlling pornography but agreed that campaign spending should be limited.

Rep. Richard L. Ottinger, the Democrat, and Charles E. Goodell, the Republican-Liberal, agreed that Red China should be recognized. James L. Buckley said he was opposed "as a symbolic matter."

Asked to outline their opponents' weaknesses, the three candidates showed the greatest difference of outlook.

Buckley said, "The weakness of my two opponents is that they have the wrong points of view. They both—if you took their platform, what they issue out of their press offices—they look like carbon copies of one another."

He added that the nation should restore a sense of toughness toward lawbreakers and quit "pampering revolutionaries."

Goodell said Buckley had no experience in public office and "no positive answers" to solve social problems. Ottinger, Goodell said, had not produced his own legislation during his six years in Congress.

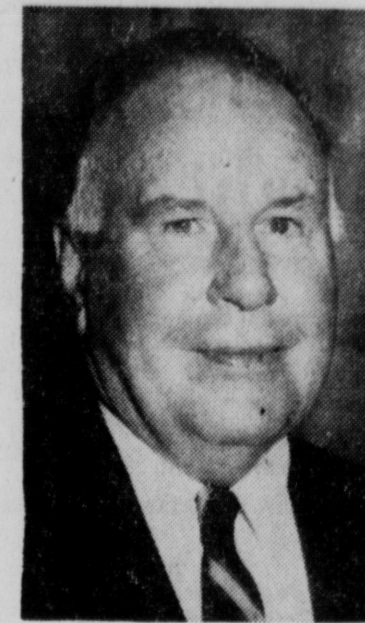

Ottinger said he felt "the Nixon economic policies, the Nixon policies of division are ruining the country."

"I'm the only one in this race," he said, "that's not going to vote Republican to organize the Senate."

Ottinger and Goodell said they believed control of pornography should be left to the family. Buckley said society was becoming "too permissive."

Lower Age, Requirements

Court Takes a Look at Vote Suit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The new federal law lowering the voting age of 18 and easing other requirements for the voter came under Supreme Court scrutiny today.

The nine justices set aside four hours to hear lawsuits involving Oregon, Texas, Arizona and Idaho. The suits were filed directly with the high court and have not been heard elsewhere, although a special federal court in the District of Columbia previously upheld the law in a separate suit brought by five New Yorkers.

In addition to lowering the voting age, the law wipes out literacy requirements and cuts down to 30 days the period a voter must reside in a new location before he can vote for president and vice president.

Oregon and Texas sued the United States on the grounds that Congress could not under the Constitution act to change voting qualifications imposed by the states. The state constitutions in Oregon and Texas fix the voting age at 21. The Justice Department sued against Arizona and Idaho to test the other two disputed sections of the statute. The Nixon Administration opposed lowering the voting age by law—a part of the statute which will become effective Jan. 1 if the court upholds it.

When President Nixon signed the measure he expressed approval of its purpose but said a constitutional amendment was the proper way to achieve it. Legislators of two-thirds of the states would have to ratify such an amendment.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell, obliged to defend the law despite the administration's lack of enthusiasm for it, wrote the governors of all 50 states asking them to pledge to obey the new requirements.

He reported to the court that Arizona insisted on enforcing its literacy test, which requires voters to read the U.S. Constitution and sign their names. Mitchell said about 73,200 Arizonians, many of them Spanish-Americans, would not be able to vote next month if the state law stands. Idaho and North Carolina also refused and New Hampshire was doubtful on enforcing the new law.

While the case is in court, potential voters who cannot pass the literacy tests are being registered anyway with the thought their names can be eliminated from the rolls if the federal law is struck down. Only Idaho and Indiana refuse to comply with the 30-day residency requirement which would become effective election.

President Heads Into the Heartland On 2nd Installment of Ballot Drive

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's hunt for votes sent him today to the region he calls the heartland, wooing the silent majority and offering a lower-key version of the law-and-order campaign theme hammered by Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

Urging Americans to "speak up with your votes" against obscenity, disruptive dissent and violence, Nixon's set an opening day itinerary of Columbus, Ohio, Grand Forks, N.D., and Kansas City, Mo.

All three are Senate campaign states.

The President campaigns in Johnson City, Tenn., Asheville, N.C., and Ft. Wayne, Ind., Tuesday before returning to the White House.

It is the second installment of a Nixon campaign expected to cover 18 to 20 states before election day.

Agnew has been on the campaign circuit for five weeks, drumming at the assertion that Republican victories will help counter lawlessness and turmoil, on the campus and on the streets.

Nixon, speaking in generally softer tones than the explicit and hard-line approach of his vice president, keynoted his own campaign Saturday, speaking in four states electing senators this year, declaring in Teterboro, N.J.:

"One vote is worth 100 obscene slogans."

In Lancaster, Pa., he accused Democrats of "permissiveness in high places" during their eight years in the White House.

In Burlington, Vt., he spoke of those who shout obscenities about America, engage in violence, kill and injure policemen.

"Let the majority of Americans speak up, speak up on Nov. 3, speak up with your votes," Nixon said. "That is the way to answer."

Nixon's first Midwestern stop in Ohio is designed to boost Rep. Robert Taft Jr., who seeks a Senate seat now Democratic.

Taft wasn't interested in having Agnew appear in Ohio, saying while it would help in some areas it would hurt in others. Instead, he wanted the man he is getting, the President.

In Grand Forks, Nixon's prestige is being injected into what is considered a closely contested Senate race between Republican Rep. Thomas Kleppe and Sen. Quentin N. Burdick, the Democratic incumbent.

Farm legislation is the issue here. But, in general Kleppe's well-financed and intensive campaign has stressed all around support for the President.

John C. Danforth, Missouri's attorney general, and an underdog campaigner for the Senate, is the principal beneficiary of Nixon's Kansas City campaign appearance. Danforth is challenging Sen. Stuart Symington, rated the favorite as he seeks a fourth term at 69.

Campaigner Nixon also is underscoring his policy in Southeast Asia, and he sought also to counter opposition criticism of administration economic policies, blaming inflation on what he called reckless spending by Democrats.

The economic issue came up at the White House Sunday when Nixon met for nearly two hours with six representatives of the Business Council, an organization of top executives.

Ronald L. Ziegler, the White House press secretary, said, "The impression I got was that they urged the administration to continue with the policies we have been following."

Lenefsky Defines Senator's Job

KINGSTON David Lenefsky, candidate for the State Senate, released a position paper today, entitled The $18,000 Job Of A State Senator. "The purpose of the position paper," commented Lenefsky "is to exactly define the job of a state senator so that by election day, Nov. 3, citizens of Dutchess and Ulster Counties will know the many differences between me and my opponent."

Lenefsky said, "my opponent has been silent about the issues facing Ulster and Dutchess Counties and instead has tied himself to the coattails of Ulster County Assemblyman H. Clark Bell for the past two years, and is now trying to take advantage of the increasingly popular Jim Buckley, candidate for the U.S. Senate."

The position paper begins by asking "What is the job of a State Senator? What is the function of a politician? We all know precisely what a doctor does—and what a lawyer, school teacher, policeman and other working people do. But what exactly is the function of a politician—particularly a State Senator?" the Democratic candidate asked.

The position paper identifies four major tasks of a State Senator from Dutchess and Ulster Counties. "First, our state senator should seek adoption of state legislation which advances the interests of Dutchess and Ulster citizens. To protect our interests," explains the paper, "A State Senator must know our problems. Learning our problems is exactly what our present State Senator has failed to do in four years in office," Lenefsky charged.

Lenefsky cited the understaffed and underpaid law enforcement officers in Ulster and Dutchess Counties as the kind of problem that could be resolved by appropriate state legislation, but which has never been introduced into the State Legislature by his opponent Jay P. Rolison Jr. "The reason why our cities, towns and villages in Dutchess and Ulster are short of policemen is because our communities do not have enough money to pay them decent salaries," Lenefsky states in the paper. "I want to sponsor, and adopt, legislation in Albany to get state monies for strengthening our law enforcement capabilities in Ulster and Dutchess Counties. "The second job of a state senator," states the position paper, "is to provide information to citizens of Dutchess and Ulster about the important unresolved problems. Without a factually informed public opinion, the citizenry is at the mercy of the politicians," Lenefsky states in the position paper. "I have spoken out, and provided Dutchess and Ulster citizens with more information in the past four months than my opponent has in four years in office."

"A third job for a state senator," according to Lenefsky's paper, "is to become involved in community affairs in Dutchess and Ulster Counties. And the fourth function is to be available to the citizens." Lenefsky commented that "if people want to see our present state senator, we must go to his law office in Poughkeepsie and sit in his waiting office among paying law citizens. We are constituents, now law clients," said Lenefsky. The candidate also revealed that he would "set up a tie telephone line in Albany so that anyone anywhere in Dutchess and Ulster Counties, could dial a local number and reach me personally in Albany when the legislature is in session."

Vogt Answers Charges On Conviction Record

KINGSTON Francis J. Vogt, Republican Conservative candidate for the office of District Attorney attacked his Democratic opponent's use of the phrase, "secret or soft deals" in connection with the disposition of cases against defendants charged with selling drugs.

"This is deliberate misrepresentation," said Vogt, "since (Alex) Nirenberg even with his limited experience in criminal matters, knows or should know that all pleas are taken in open court, with representatives of the news media present, and are scrutinized by the presiding judge before they are accepted and entered." Vogt said that his opponent's recklessness and irresponsible use of the word "deal," with all it implies, impugns the integrity of District Attorney Joseph Torraca, every member of his staff as well as the court.

Vogt noted that two of the so-called "soft or secret deals" referred to by his opponent involved cases in which he appeared for his defendant and in each case the defendant was sentenced to the penitentiary for a period of five years. "If this is my opponent's idea of a 'soft deal,'" said Vogt, "I sure wouldn't want him representing me in a criminal case."

records of the Judicial Conference for the Third Judicial District which is made up of seven counties including Ulster, which records show that Ulster County, although third in population, was first in the number of cases tried to completion, number of convictions obtained after trial and, percentage-wise, was first in the number of overall convictions. With respect to the drug problem, Vogt pointed out that 80 per cent of all adult defendants, charged with the sale of drugs, excluding those certified as narcotic addicts and sent to the rehabilitation centers, were convicted.

Vogt scoffed at his opponent's claim that he has handled some 300 criminal cases, pointing out that the records of the Ulster County Clerk's office show that his opponent in the past 10 years has tried only three criminal cases. "Possibly," said Vogt, "the other 297 cases were traffic violations."

The way I see it, our State Senator owes us $72,000.

Our State Senator is paid $18,000 a year.

So in the past four years $72,000 of our tax money has been paid out to him.

But in these four years what has he done to make all of our lives better?

Taxes have gone up and up. The pollution situation, to say the least, isn't getting any better. And the crime and drug problem is not only enough to get you angry, it's enough to get you frightened.

Now I don't think your State Senator can fix all these things 100 per cent, but he can do something. And I don't think our man has done anything.

In fact, an editorial in the New Paltz News, a paper that normally favors our State Senator's party, recently said:

"...our State Senator has been our representative in name only. I keep getting the impression that the salary taxpayers pay Mr. Rolison is more like welfare."

My name is David Lenefsky and I'm running for State

"Ulster and Dutchess, the forgotten counties. I'll make Albany remember them."

Senator from Ulster and Dutchess Counties because I'm angry about all these things. I think there are things your State Senator can do.

I want to fight up in Albany for higher taxes on big business. Right now the ones carrying the load are you and the small businessman. Why shouldn't the big guys pay their way, instead of us paying for them?

I want to fight for tougher air pollution standards. The ones we have now are so weak, they actually encourage pollution. As for water pollution, I want to work with our local officials to get money out of Albany and into our Counties so we can build sewage disposal plants.

And then I want to get even more money from Albany (we pay out enough in taxes to Albany, don't we?) so we can build up our police department and build a special narcotics police division.

But most of all, I want to work for you by working with you. So we can make all of our lives better.

Let's elect David Lenefsky State Senator

Accountants Meet

RHINEBECK Dr. Robert Rehewelt, associate professor of Chemistry at Marist College, will be the speaker at the Mid-Hudson Chapter of the National Association of Accountants meeting to be held at the Beekman Arms in Rhinebeck tonight. The dinner meeting is to start at 6:30 p.m. followed by a technical session at 7:30 p.m.

Dr. Rehewelt's topic will be The Economics of Environmental Quality. He has a PhD from Lehigh University and is currently a director of the board of the Hudson River Environmental Society, the Dutchess County Environmental Association and chairman of the City of Poughkeepsie Environmental Advisory Committee. He has contributed to the 1969 Hudson pollution conference held at the University of Rhode Island. With pollution being one of the key factors of the day, this talk should be of vital concern and interest to all members and their guests attending.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, OCTOBER 19, 1970

Mid-1973 Draft End

President Nixon's announcement that he has ordered all-out preparations to end the draft by mid-1973 takes selective service out of politics. It promises an all-volunteer military force within three years and an end to the doubts and worries of unwanted military service for boys now 15 years of age and their successors.

Military service will be a matter of choice after 1973 and the armed forces are going all out to make that choice so attractive, it will fill the ranks by willing men anxious to serve. Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has already requested the three service secretaries and the Chairman of the Chiefs of Staff, Admiral Thomas H. Moorer, to spur action that should be taken to move toward the zero draft goal, to put it in Pentagonese.

The changeover will start with new emphasis on recruiting. In addition, there will be new inducements for additional enlistments both in the Reserve and National Guard components.

For some time, a "Project Volunteer Committee" has been working on ways to improve the attractiveness of military careers. Laird has asked his top service officials to study the committee's recommendations and evaluate them, to bring out the best ways to build up the volunteer force.

General William C. Westmoreland, Army Chief of Staff, enlisted the Army Association a group of civilians and retired officers devoted to the senior military service, to assist in the all-volunteer project. The chiefs of staff of the Navy and Air Force will make the same plea to similar organizations that support the Navy and Air Force.

Finally, Laird plans to submit to Congress legislation to boost by 20 per cent the base pay for enlisted men. That is where the drive for a volunteer force begins. Fattening the pay of enlisted men is the first step to making military careers more attractive and thereby restoring an all-out volunteer service.

Unemployment Downturn

Labor Secretary James Hodgson is not discouraged by the most recent figure of 5.1 per cent for unemployment in the country. He told the United Steel Workers convention in Atlantic City the figure is likely to go up, fractionally, in the next two or three months—to 5.3 or 5.4 per cent—then stabilize and turn downward early in 1971.

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, expects the economy to reach full employment by the end of 1971. This would require a pretty rapid rate of increase in business activity—something like six per cent growth in annual rate, in real, noninflated terms.

If he had a magic wand, McCracken said he would like the economy to get right back to full employment. But having gone this far in trying to restabilize the price level, he said, "We would not want to adopt such an all-stops-pulled out policy that would trip off another inflation."

Thus, he said that the end of 1971, give or take a quarter, would not be an unduly cautious or unrealistic ambitious goal for reaching full employment. In a work force of 80 million, the difference between the current 5.1 per cent unemployed and full employment with four per cent unemployed, is 1.1 per cent, or 880,000 persons. It is tough on the unemployed, but the economy can stand it for another year.

More After 1971

The campaign in New York's 29th Congressional District is the only race in the country this fall with two incumbent House members running against each other. The bitterness runs deep. It is more than locally important, because the 1970 census figures will create many of the same kind of confrontations.

This race is the result of redistricting. It pits Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, 54, a rather hawkish Democrat who has made a career of winning elections in Republican districts, against Rep. Daniel E. Button, 52, a rather dovish Republican, who has been elected twice in an area that used to be a Democratic stronghold.

When the census figures show the lost seats in several states that have lost population, redistricting will inevitably pit incumbents against each other if they wish to stay in Congress, as most do, once they crash in. They could be primary opponents, if they are from the same party; or general election opponents, if they differ as they do in the New York 29th.

Election watchers will study the results and the causes in the 29th New York for what it will tell them about strategy and style that succeed in the coming battles of the incumbents.

To draw business away from illegal bookmakers, Howard J. Samuels, president of New York City's Off-track Betting Corporation, is considering issuing credit cards. Anything to beat organized crime in a business where no holds are barred.

David Lawrence Says U.S. Will Not Change Peace Plans Before Election

WASHINGTON — If the North Vietnamese think that they are gaining an advantage by rejecting outright President Nixon's peace offer and that he will be compelled, between now and the congressional elections, to modify his proposals to satisfy his adversaries, they are making a big mistake. Doubtless Hanoi feels that Mr. Nixon cannot do anything but accept unconditionally the various ideas — which amount virtually to complete surrender — heretofore advanced by the Communists at the Paris negotiations.

It is, however, significant that the White House on Thursday not only declined to accept North Vietnam's rejection as final but expressed a belief that Hanoi "should and will continue to examine them." Newsmen were further informed that the United States would keep the President's proposals on the bargaining table in Paris and try to use them as a basis for getting discussions moving. A White House spokesman said the other side is engaged in "the traditional bargaining technique of rejecting our proposals immediately" but that "we feel they will continue to look at it."

This means that between now and November 3 the United States will be talking about the "expectation" of further discussions, while the North Vietnamese will continue balking because of the mistaken theory that a change in the proposals is logical for the administration to make in order to win favor before the elections. What isn't perhaps recognized in Hanoi is that the American people are far more united today behind the President's plan for peace in Vietnam than they have been for other proposals in the last several years.

American troops continue to be gradually withdrawn, but the South Vietnamese still will be assisted to some extent so that they can maintain a defense of their country. Meantime, prosecution of the war will be an expensive operation for North Vietnam and its allies. In another year or two South Vietnam will have strengthened its position militarily so that it can withstand incursions from the North even without a substantial number of American troops within its borders.

It could happen, therefore, that immediately after the congressional elections here the North Vietnamese will wake up to find that the United States hasn't budged in its position. They then might come to understand why, if they continue to reject the peace proposals, they will be merely committing themselves to a lengthy war in which the United States will be furnishing support for some time to come.

The United States isn't going to change its stand between now and the elections and certainly there will be no political reason for doing so after November 3. The statement made by the White House on Thursday indicates clearly that the United States will keep on pressing for peace and the necessity for full discussion of the Nixon proposals no matter how often the North Vietnamese say they are "rejecting" everything.

North Vietnam may think it is going to force the United States to surrender in Vietnam or to make further concessions before the congressional elections, but they evidently do not know American sentiment. The feeling among the people now is that the administration has made a sincere and constructive attempt to end the war, and the North Vietnamese are hurting their case by refusing to talk about the proposals that have been made. The administration, therefore, will keep on asking for more discussions at Paris of its plan.

Also, since the United Nations is meeting and a number of conferences between major powers will be going on for the next few weeks, the chances are there will be no change in the American plan for peace.

The North Vietnamese will find out after election day — November 3 — that they gained nothing by rejecting the American plan and by refusing to initiate further negotiations. It may well be said that for all practical purposes any important action will be postponed until after the election. The American government might then consider concessions of some kind if it becomes apparent that the North Vietnamese are genuinely interested in doing the same thing.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

The room was cool; the lunch was appetizing. Two of my favorite men were at the table but, like most men of medicine, they tend to address their remarks to each other, and to use professional terminology which leaves me a couple of light years beyond comprehension.

Both attended Jefferson College in Pennsylvania, although they had not met before. Dr. Lester Keiser is, by his deeds and his published writings, one of the dozen top psychiatrists in this country. He belongs to the new breed, whose credo seems to be: "To hell with four years on the couch; let's get to the heart of your trouble now and correct it."

Dr. Edwin Boyle, chief of the research division of cardiology at Miami Heart Institute, ranks with De Baky and a few others who understand the human pump and how much abuse it will endure without faltering. I kept busy with my grilled cheese sandwich on rye and the cup of onyx coffee, listening without understanding, absorbing a little knowledge such as when Boyle said: "I'm not interested in heart attacks. I want to keep the patient from having another one in the next 20 or 30 years."

And yet, underneath the multi-syllabled words was a definite truth. They agreed that if a person is born to strong immigrant stock, there is a larger chance of living to a ripe old age. I had brought these men together for a luncheon chat, but longevity was the only part I understood.

A century ago, there was very little proper medication for anything. Thus the strong outlived the weak and propagated their strength into their young. This led me to abandon the dialogue between Dr. Boyle and Dr. Keiser, and begin to think of my family. Not that this will assist me to live as long as my ancestors, because they did not smoke and I do. A cigarette is as important to me as a nipple is to a crawling baby.

I became so interested in the thesis that I began to run back up the family tree. My mother died at age 73, diabetic and blind. She was Dutch-Irish, the daughter of the seventh of seven sons named Tier. Her father, a policeman, died at the age of 78 and her mother, whose maiden name was Mary McSwiggen, survived him until she was close to 80.

He was a sturdy man with pale yellow hair and a blond mustache, which, on his days off, hung over huge steins of beer too long. To placate his wife, he returned home loaded in an open barouche, carrying the only thing his spouse could not resist — a quart of ice cream.

At the door, when she began the oral stabbing, he held the package in front of him and said: "Mary, it's going to melt. You can holler later." She believed him every time, ate the ice cream and, when she was finished and ready for a volcanic eruption, Alonzo Tier was asleep, blowing his mustache upward from a white pillow.

On the Bishop side of the family, my father was the eldest of eight children and in 1898, three died in Christmas week of diphtheria. He survived, but he didn't realize that it left heart damage. From the time he was nine, his heart sounded like a busted belfry clock.

He called it "indigestion." The doctors called it "indigestion." What happened was that the diphtheria had killed the pacemaker of the heart and the valves tried to work, without an electric nudge to induce a beat. In columns, I always referred to him as "Big John," and take my word for it, he was the best and worst there is.

When he was 84, he was in the hospital and, after sitting with him a while, not knowing what to discuss, I got up to leave. "So long, Jim," he said, the snowy hair and patrician Irish face rising from a pillow. I said "so long," but he knew it was "so long" forever, and I didn't. He died in a coma.

His mother kept a rooming house and died at the age of 84, a tiny capsule with white hair and skin like wrinkled custard. Her husband, Jim Bishop, shoveled coal at an oil refinery 12 hours a day. He was short and broad and he had a true Wexford County accent, as Mary Bishop had an undying, unchanging Corkonian accent.

Of them all, he is the only one who died at 41. As he shoveled, he inhaled the tiny diamonds of bituminous coal and they adhered to the surface of his lacy lungs. He called it asthma. It wasn't. He was silicosis. In 1898, the physician had no cure except bed rest and liberal doses of whiskey during attacks. All it lifted was his spirits.

The luncheon was over. The doctors were still talking. I admire Keiser and Boyle beyond phrasing. They asked me what I got out of the discussions.

I told them the truth: "Nothing"...

Jack Anderson Says

Galya, Soviet Blond Beauty, Romances Washington, D.C.

WASHINGTON — In the quiet quest for U.S. secrets, the Soviets sometimes follow the script of the James Bond movie "From Russia with Love." This column, for example, has checked into the romantic conquests of modish, mini-skirted Galina "Galya" Utkhina whose intimate male friends would fill a Who's Who.

By day, Galya is Russia's cultural attaché in Washington. She may be seen, dressed with peasant modesty, escorting women's delegations from the Soviet Union around Washington.

But by night, Galya slips into a trim blouse and short skirt purchased from the most chic boutiques. She often turns up, usually escorted by an important American, at some softly lit restaurant.

Galya is always gay, and she holds her liquor well. One escort has described her as scintillating. She is also a good listener.

She has dated prominent figures from Capitol Hill, government agencies, Western embassies and the United Nations. She has even romanced a few lobbyists, who have no official standing but who possess an intimate acquaintance with the backrooms of Washington.

All the men have one thing in common: they are close to the seat of power.

We won't publish the names of her many escorts. There is no real proof that they have whispered anything more compromising into her ear than soft endearments.

We know she likes to discuss affairs of state with them. One powerful U.S. official, speaking from experience, acknowledged to us that Galya was more interested in political than cultural matters.

Footnote: The pretty, blond Mrs. Utkhina is separated or divorced from her husband. She is 41 years old, but looks much younger. Apparently, she learned of our investigation into her after-hours activities. Our repeated efforts to reach her were ignored. Telephone calls were never returned, and she was never in when we called her private office number.

Martha's Greenbacked Thumb
Martha Mitchell, the vi-

vacuous wife of the Attorney General, is as free with the taxpayers' money as she is with her verbal outbursts.

The talkative Martha has already spent more than $50,000 to refurbish the inside of the Justice Department.

Now she is spending another $50,000 to redo the greenery on the outside. Mrs. Mitchell has bullied the General Services Administration into brutally cutting back the handsome old magnolia trees growing alongside the building.

Many of the azalea bushes and shrubs around the Department are being dug up to be replaced in this year of economy by expensive Japanese holly bushes and boxwoods. Martha's choice of boxwoods shows how little she knows about Washington. The city's garden experts maintain that it is virtually impossible to grow boxwoods in exhaust-ridden downtown Washington without almost daily care.

Mrs. Mitchell is also eager to give her husband a different view from his office window. So she is having the old oaks outside his window chopped down even though they've been growing there for decades.

When Martha Mitchell is finished with redesigning the outside of the Department, she will have spent more than $100,000 of the taxpayers' money, all without full hearings by Congress.

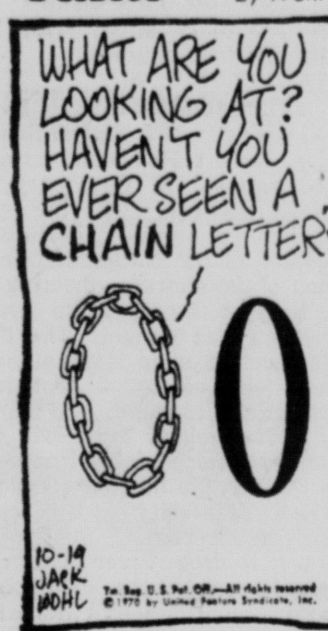

Midis A Plot?

The Senate Anti-Trust subcommittee has been quietly investigating to see whether fashion dictators conspired to force the mid-skirt onto American women in an effort to boost sales of women's wear companies.

So far the probe, ordered by subcommittee chairman Phil Hart, D-Mich., has been inconclusive. Hart has put it on the back burner for the time being because of other committee business and his own campaign for re-election.

Nevertheless, the investigation has thrown a scare into the fashion industry in New York. The industry was able to answer earlier charges that the mid was promoted by homosexual designers to cover up women's legs — but the idea of Senate gumshoes looking for anti-trust violations is less easy to shrug off.

Nixon's Subtle Ax Hacks At Goodell in Odd Episode

By BRUCE BISSAT

NEW YORK (NEA) — President Nixon's backhanded effort to purge Republican Sen. Charles Goodell from his party's ranks is one of the most bizarre episodes in modern political annals.

Backhanded is the word, for no seasoned appraiser here doubts that the President's mind is the guiding one, even though only Vice President Spiro Agnew is openly assaulting Goodell as a radical liberal and an obstructionist standing in the way of Nixon policies.

Moreover, as the President has just demonstrated in a brief touchdown in New York's Westchester county and Agnew showed in earlier visits, neither man is going to make a frank endorsement of the fellow they want to win — James L. Buckley, who runs under the Conservative party label yet says he would vote as a Republican in the Senate.

Full-hearted purge attempts of one's intra-party enemies are usually very risky. Franklin D. Roosevelt tried a celebrated sweep of his own house in 1938 and failed almost totally.

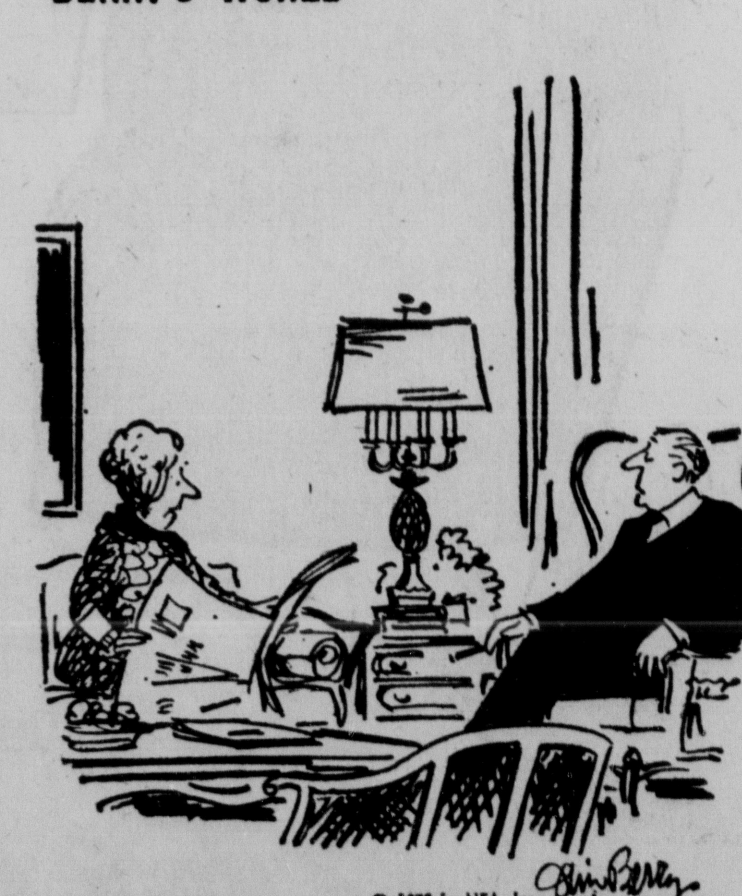

But at least he took on some strong boys, like the potent Sen. Walter George of Georgia.

Goodell, named to his seat by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller after the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy, is nothing of the sort. A moderate to conservative upstate congressman at that point, Goodell moved swiftly to liberal positions (especially against the Vietnam war) in quest of the kind of base he felt necessary for victory in this reputedly liberal state. And that move put him in deep trouble from the outset.

So Nixon, through Agnew (who may come back here in late October for another try), seems to be stomping on a man who is already down and would probably lose to the evident front-runner, Democratic nominee Rep. Richard L. Ottinger, if left alone.

Goodell, wearing a martyr complex as big as an overcoat, says he thinks Agnew and Company are after him because he was the first Increasing Number of Americans Favor Admitting Red China to U.N.

PRINCETON, N.J. — The number of Americans who favor admitting Communist China to the United Nations has reached the highest point recorded since the proportion falls short of a plurality.

Public opinion surveys in Canada on this issue show the public there in favor of admitting China.

Nixon's Popularity Increases After Cease-Fire Proposal

PRINCETON, N.J. — Following his cease-fire proposal and trip to Europe, President Nixon's popularity has registered a three-percentage point increase over an early September rating. The latest figure is 59 per cent, the highest recorded since July.

If the president's trip was timed for political purposes for the coming election, as some of his critics charge, then the trip has apparently had the desired effect.

The popularity of presidents has been recorded since the Gallup Poll was launched almost exactly thirty-five years ago — on October 20, 1935. Throughout the last three decades this question has been regularly put to carefully selected samples of all adult citizens of the nation:

Do you approve or disapprove of the way (Nixon) is handling his job as President?

The results of the poll compared this week, with the trend since mid-July:

	Disapprove	No opinion	Approve
Oct. 9-13	27	14	59
Aug. 28-Sept. 1	30	14	56
July 31-Aug. 2	32	13	55
July 10-12	28	11	61

For the survey reported today, a total of 1431 adults were interviewed in person in more than 300 scientifically selected localities across the nation. Field work was undertaken Oct. 9-13.

Interviewing for the survey began on October 9, only two days after his report to the nation, on his cease-fire proposal.

Analysis of the "rub-off" effect of a president's popularity in off-year congressional elections indicates that when the White House incumbent's popularity is more than 60 per cent, losses in Congress tend to be below normal. When the incumbent's rating is in the 50's no rub-off effect is discernible.

Great Britain, some twenty years ago, recognized Red China but has never exchanged ambassadors. Public opinion, as recorded by the affiliated Gallup Poll, found sentiment in April of this year divided as follows: in favor, 42 per cent; opposed 24 per cent; no opinion, 34 per cent.

A recent report from the Australian Gallup Poll, published last week, showed 49 per cent in that country in favor of recognizing Red China, 35 per cent opposed and 16 per cent with no opinion.

In a survey completed in the U.S. in September, covering 1497 adults, these results were found to this question:

Do you think Communist China should or should not be admitted as a member of the United Nations?

Admit Red China to UN?

Should	35%
Should not	49%
No opinion	16%

Public sentiment on this issue has been regularly charted in the United States since 1950. From 1950 to 1958 the public's vote never reached a higher figure than 17 per cent. In more recent years, an increasing

Galaxy Fire Will Not Stop Plan for Plane

MARIETTA, Ga. (UPI)—The destruction of a C5 Galaxy in an explosion and fire will not interfere with the production of the world's largest airplane, according to a Lockheed Georgia official.

R. D. Roche, vice president of Lockheed Georgia and C5 program manager, said Sunday the giant plane exploded on the flight line early Saturday "at a time when no engines were running, nor were any systems in operation on the aircraft."

"Therefore, we feel there is no relationship between this accident and any flight operation of the aircraft, and see no reason for this accident to interfere with the tests, production and military airlift command operations of their C5 fleet."

proportion would admit Red China. The latest figure (35 per cent) is the highest yet recorded.

One of the significant findings of the survey is that a majority (52 per cent) of the best educated group in the population, those who have attended college, favor a UN seat for Communist China.

Tight Money Squeezes High Schoolers Harder

Distributed by NEA
In almost every important spending consideration, the recession has affected high school students more than collegians or out-of-school young people, results of the National Gilbert Youth Poll indicate.

Eighty-eight per cent of high schoolers believe their families pay more now for food, while only 71 per cent of collegians and out-of-school students do.

Seventy-four per cent of high schoolers think the family pays more for clothes, but only 66 per cent of the out-of-school group and 62 per cent of collegians think so.

Seven of 10 high schoolers pay more for their own clothing, but only six of 10 non-schoolers and 55 per cent of collegians say this is true.

More than half (57 per cent) in high school spend more on entertainment. The percentage falls to 53 per cent in the out-of-school ranks and to 48 per cent in college.

Expenses for family services, say 67 per cent of high schoolers, are up. Only 63 per cent of out-of-schoolers agree, and 59 per cent of collegians feel this way.

Almost 75 per cent of high school students feel inflation (the other side of the recession coin) causes their families to spend more on general products. Three-fifths of the non-schoolers and only half of the college crowd say this.

Personal spending on general goods shows similar attitudes: 64 per cent among high schoolers, 51 per cent among out-of-schoolers, only 40 per cent among collegians.

Book Censorship

One of the first steps fascist or dictatorial leadership takes in order to "brainwash" a society is to impose censorship and destroy books. Wherever the populace is prevented from reading whatever it wishes to read freely, the first stage of repression is set in motion.

Robert L. Post, in the vague name of Americanism, (since he hasn't defined it,) reproves the "Kingston and surrounding areas (that are) loaded with literature that is both un-American and obscene."

The citizens of this area are sufficiently intelligent to determine their own reading fare and Mr. Post's pious declarations are out of order. What gives Mr. Post's arguments a biased tone is his failure to include administrators of the excellent schools, colleges and libraries in the area in calling for judges of what local bookstores contain.

One of Russia's most brilliant writers who was recently given the Nobel Prize for literature, and deservedly, is persona non grata in Russia. His books are prohibited in his own country and are passed around secretly in manuscript. In Hitler Germany, the first edit was "burn the books."

It would be interesting (and frightening) to learn whose writings Mr. Post would prohibit.

Appreciation Expressed

Editor, The Freeman

Permit me to express my personal appreciation to you for the editorial which you wrote regarding the celebration of National School Lunch Week.

Since I am devoting my working life during the months of September to June each year to the objectives of nutrition for children in school, I take pleasure and pride in the work that is done by School Lunch Programs. There is no doubt that people will live a longer life in years to come. Medical science is making its contribution toward a longer life expectancy. School Lunch Programs will affect the eating habits of our citizenry.

Thank you again for your fine contribution in the interest of nutrition for school children. Kindest personal regards.

Congratulates VFW Post

Editor, The Freeman

The following letter was sent to Joyce Schirick Post, 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars:

Along with many other residents of Ulster County, I wish to join my voice to those that are congratulating Joyce Schirick Post No. 1386 on the event of their 24th annual Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program. It is especially significant that this year's theme, "Freedom — Our Heritage", gives our students in the 10th, 11th and 12th grades a chance to review the great history upon which this country was founded. Encouraging these students to write on this theme is to encourage our children to realize the great foundations upon which the United States of America has been built.

It is especially important that in these times of campus unrest, if not encouraged, at least tolerated, that we harken back to the days and the heritage that gave us the freedom that only America knows.

I offer my congratulations to your post and hope that you will continue in the years to come to encourage our children in the ways of the American life.

Very truly yours,

Education Week Program Slated

BOICEVILLE—“Shape Schools for the '70s” is the theme and challenge of this year's American Education Week observance, October 25-31.

In announcing local participation in the observance, Dr. Frank M. Marlow, superintendent of schools called upon the entire community to join in a reassessment of the school's role in today's society.

“During the sixties,” he said, “there was an awakening across the country to many alarming inadequacies in our educational programs and during the seventies we must achieve marked improvement.”

“We must face up to the new complexities of life,” Dr. Marlow stated, “making sure our schools afford the student adequate and relevant experiences to enable him, on attaining adulthood, to be a contributing and self-respecting citizen, gainfully employed, and able to cope with his environment and fellow men.”

American Education Week, held annually since 1921, is sponsored by the National Education Association, The American Legion, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and the U.S. Office of Education.

In addition to the traditional emphases on school visitation by parents, good citizenship, and the need for strengthening and supporting the schools, this year's observance will focus on ways in which the schools might be changed and how more people can work together in shaping the schools for the '70s, including how to foster greater awareness in the individual of the opportunities to participate in directing the institutions that serve him.

Workshops Planned At Bennett School

BOICEVILLE—A series of workshops for parents to be held at the Reginald R. Bennett Elementary School, Boiceville, has been scheduled. Topics for discussion will include: the reading program, modern mathematics, grouping within the classroom, goals for the year, evaluation of progress and how parents can help. Parents will have the opportunity to ask questions and to examine educational materials used by their children. Refreshments will be provided by the Bennett P.T.A. The workshop series has been planned by the Bennett School faculty and administration in cooperation with the P.T.A. in order to foster cooperative relationships and understanding between home and school.

Workshops planned in the series include: Kindergarten, October 22, Mrs. Mildred McGloughlin; Grade 3, November 5, Mrs. Susanne Cottier and Mrs. J. Hellenschmidt; Grade 4, November 12, Miss Maureen Ihken and George DeFina; Grade 5 and 6, November 19, Michael Boyle, Mrs. Constance Vanni, Roger Jones and R. Hellenschmidt; Special Classes, December 3, Miss Virginia Slavik and Jon Levin.

All workshops begin at 7:30 p.m. Parents of children in the grades or subject being discussed are cordially invited to attend.

Some Abortions Banned in City To Lower Risks

NEW YORK (UPI)—A ban on abortions in doctors' offices and most private clinics went into effect in New York City today.

The Board of Health, which announced the new restrictions Sept. 17, said the change was designed to lower the risk to women undergoing abortions. Opponents of the action, including doctors, legislators and women's rights organizations, contended abortion is a simple enough medical procedure to allow performance of the operation in doctors' private offices or clinics.

The city rules, which now permit pregnancy terminations only in hospitals, hospital-affiliated clinics or clinics which satisfy strict standards, are an abridgement on the state abortion law.

Chest Drive At 30 Pct. Level

KINGSTON reminder to all of the residents of Ulster County that the final planning is now being conducted for "Community Chest Sunday" on the 25th of this month, the day when the major, house-to-house campaign will be made by hundreds of Community Chest volunteers. "It is my sincere hope," said Triulzi, "that we can, through our house-to-house campaign, demonstrate to the people of our area that we wish to involve everyone in our most worthwhile cause." The chairman pointed out, met.

Triulzi pointed out that this year, as in previous campaigns, the first few weeks' Community Chest returns are primarily from the "Pacemaker" group, which is made up of the corporate banking and leadership divisions. Triulzi said that more than over 6 per cent of the total collected to date is from the "Pacemaker" group, but added that some of other divisions, namely education, public service, and professional, are beginning to bring in some of their returns. It was also noted by Triulzi that except for a few isolated instances the pledges for the 1970-71 Community Chest campaign are running ahead of last year's general average, and if the trend continues until the end of the drive on Nov. 6, it is anticipated that the current goal of $400,000 can be reached. Triulzi added, however, that 30 per cent is still a far cry from 100 per cent and that during the next three weeks every effort must be exerted by all volunteers in their respective divisions and areas.

The 1970-71 general campaign chairman concluded with a however, that since the one day effort will involve about 20,000 homes throughout the county, it will require the complete cooperation of both the Community Chest volunteers and the public if the drive is to be successful. The goal for the house-to-house campaign on the Oct. 25 is $35,000 which is an average of about $1.75 per home, and it is hoped that the goal will be reached, or even exceeded, so that the Chest's over-all goal of $400,000 can be met.

Hornbeck Osterhout, she was a member of Ponckhockie Congregational Church and the Ladies Aid Society of the church. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. George (Margaret) Messing, Mrs. Nelson (Iva) Houghtaling and Mrs. Austin (Esther) Brown, all of Kingston; three sons, Frank J. Storm of Kingston, Raymond T. Lyke

Drivers Get Citations on Varied Charges

KINGSTON Several motorists were cited over the weekend by deputies from the staff of Sheriff William B. Martin, for violations of sections of the vehicle and traffic laws, including two who were summoned for passing stopped school buses.

Corporal Bart Kniffin and Deputy Richard Malone, charged Behne of Poughkeepsie and Carmelita N. Nester of Route 1, Highland, with the school bus violations.

Others cited by the deputies were William R. Brown of Nantucket, Mass., charged with unsafe tires and operating an unregistered motor vehicle, and Richard A. Parker of Slootsburg, who was booked for unsafe tires and failure to produce a registration certificate.

Deputies Douglas Van Giesen and Richard Bockelmann cited Dennis M. Cahill, 21, of Colonial Gardens for speeding 65 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone, unlicensed operation, failure to produce a registration certificate and failure to use a signal lamp. He was held in $100 bail for hearing before Hurley Town Justice C. H. DuMond. The citations were issued on Route 28 in West Hurley.

Six Traffic Charges for Dutchess Man

KINGSTON A Dutchess County motorist was cited early Sunday by police on six vehicle and traffic violations.

Police booked Robert S. Martin, 25, of 31 Garden Street, Hyde Park, for unauthorized use of another person's license, unlicensed operation of a motor vehicle, driving an unregistered motor vehicle, unsafe tires, passing a stop sign and driving against traffic on a one-way street.

Ernest Polk, 23, of People's Road, Saugerties, was summoned on a charge of permitting Martin to use his operator's license. The summonses are scheduled for City Court.

Smedes Is Named Member of City Plumbing Board

KINGSTON Mayor Francis R. Koenig has announced the appointment of Stuart C. Smedes of 176 Marius Street to the Examining Board of Plumbers.

Smedes will fill the unexpired term of Daniel R. Barnhard of 21 Ravine Street, who resigned after leaving the plumbing business. Smedes will serve until Dec. 31 of this year.

The mayor, in making the announcement today, welcomed Smedes to the board and thanked Barnhard for his service to the city.

Port Teachers Still on Strike

PORT JERVIS, N.Y. (AP) — The strike by teachers against the Port Jervis Enlarged City School District began its third day today as picket lines were set up around the district's six buildings.

A spokesman for the teachers association that voted last week to initiate the strike said 145 of the district's 162 teachers recognized the picket lines last Thursday and Friday.

Over the weekend the teachers voted to return to their classrooms if the school board agreed to conduct round-the-clock bargaining sessions. Board President Robert Hamilton refused that condition but offered to negotiate "four or five hours a day."

Hamilton said some of the board members were in poor health and that round-the-clock sessions would be impossible. Teachers Association President Wilson DeMyre turned the offer down.

Morning sessions have been held at the schools which include one high school, one middle school and four elementary schools, but students say attendance has been low and little instruction has taken place.

School administrators, with the help of parents and substitute teachers have been conducting the classes.

Action Meet On Asia Set In Red Hook

RED HOOK ACTION meeting tonight is entitled "Southeast Asia" and will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Linden Avenue School.

The panel of speakers will include Dr. Robert Kohlitz, Professor of Political Science at Bard College; Frank Montafia, Vietnam veteran and Bard student; and Eugene A. Sheridan, professor of American Studies at Dutchess Community College.

Terrence Dewnap, English professor at Bard, will be the moderator for the panel discussion.

Results of the poll on last week's intercourse on the American experiment found those in attendance asserting that minority groups have less than an equal chance in our system.

It was also agreed that minority groups lot has improved in the last 20 years.

Other general consensus answers were "No" that organized labor has acted in the best public interest; "No" that management has acted in the best public interest; "Yes" that the control of big business by government should be increased.

Opinion was split on which group has the best opportunity to control inflation. Answers had 4 saying organized labor, 9 saying big business management, and 10 saying federal government.

And it asserted by a 19-2 vote that government representatives do not have sufficient communication with their constituents.

CHECK FOR CANCER—Ulster County Unit, American Cancer Society, received another $150 toward its 1970 Crusade from the proceeds of the Ulster County Women's Golf Association tournament. At the check presentation are (L-R) James J. Rua, Crusade treasurer; Dr. Roberto E. Benitez, accepting check, vice president of Ulster County Unit, and Mrs. Harry Kennedy, UCWGA treasurer, and Mrs. Donald Sprague of Ellenville, association president. The presentation was made recently at the Cancer Society headquarters, 400 Broadway. The tournament was one of several promotions that helped the unit better its best in achieving its quota. Sniper in the Bronx— Nothing New to People

NEW YORK (AP) — A series of sniper attacks, including the killing of a 16-year-old girl early Sunday, has brought anger but little outward fear to the residents of a Bronx block.

Sunday night the usual clusters of adults gathered on the stoops and in front of the candy stores and teen-age boys in the street played basketball using the "No Parking" sign for a backboard.

"I heard about it," said John Stesanchik, 15, when asked about the killing of Margaret Iglesias 18 hours earlier. "But a lot of people have been shot around here. I'm gonna keep playing basketball."

Police said Margaret and her friend, Yvonne Vega, 14, were returning from a party at 2 a.m. when a shot rang out.

"I'm hurt," Margaret cried. "I'm bleeding. Get a doctor." While her friend ran to their apartment house she heard several more shots. Margaret was taken to Morrisania Hospital where she was pronounced dead. She had been hit by three .22 caliber bullets.

Police said they had no information to link the killing with five previous sniper shootings on the same block of 169th Street over the past two months.

A woman was slightly wounded by sniper fire the night of Aug. 20 and two other women were similarly hit the next morning. A 19-year-old girl and a young man were wounded on Sept. 1.

The neighborhood, once largely white, is now predominantly black and Puerto Rican. Police said there is a serious drug problem.

One detective noted that despite the shootings the residents did not appear afraid. "They're used to this kind of existence," he said. "You sort of become conditioned to things like this."

"A friend of mine got shot about a month ago on the same corner where the girl got shot today," said a lounge patron. "There was a big outcry then. But then people forgot about it."

Aide Lugo, 33, an attractive mother of five, was asked how

Hijackers Play Politics, Rule Turkish Judges

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The fate of the Lithuanian and his sor who hijacked a Soviet airliner last week and killed the stewardess was in the hands of the Turkish cabinet today following a provincial court's refusal to indict them. It appeared likely that the government would send the case back to the courts.

All three judges of the court in Trabzon, where the airliner landed Thursday, agreed that the actions of Pranas Stasio Brazinskas and his son Algedas constituted a political crime. The Turkish criminal code says that a foreigner accused of foreign crimes with a political motive will not be brought to trial or extradited.

The court's action sent the case to the justice minister, who must decide whether to drop it as a political crime or instruct the public prosecutor to charge the pair with felonies. The latter course would return the case to the courts for the final decision.

The Soviet government has demanded the return of the pair, and a high-level official indicated the government would like to comply. But he said the government could not interfere with the workings of the court. Relations have been improving between the Turkish and Soviet governments in recent years, and Moscow recently agreed to a $300 million credit for industrial projects.

Report 4 Lucky Fellows In State Plane Crashes

By United Press International
Three men escaped injury Sunday in three separate aircraft accidents in eastern New York.
John N. Cross, 36, a student pilot from the Albany suburb of Selkirk, walked away uninjured after his small plane was destroyed in a crash at Duaneburg airport.
Two Rensselaer men earlier escaped injury in Saratoga County and an Ossining man was slightly hurt in a crash near Hudson.
Francis Ghidoni, 36, of Ossin-ing, on a flight from Saratoga Springs to Croton - on - Hudson, ran out of gas near Hudson. He attempted to land his Cessna Skyhawk at Columbia County Airport, state police said, and the plane was demolished when it struck tree tops.

He was in fair condition at Columbia Memorial Hospital in Hudson.
At Saratoga Lake, a seaplane piloted by Harvey Dwight, 42, County and an Ossining man as a passenger, began listing to the left after landing, troopers reported.

Kapers to Center On Travelers

KINGSTON The 1970 edition of the Kingston Kiwanis Kapers will center on the travels of five tourists on a world tour.

The five travelers will be Floyd and Fay Farkle, Felix and Florence Fenster and their son, Freddy Fenster.

Bernard Redmond, an IBM executive, will play the role of Floyd Farkle, while Robert Ronder, a local attorney, will be Fay Farkle. James Gilpatrick, a mortician-county legislator, will be Felix Fenster, while Dave Rylance, associated with the Rylance Printing firm, will play the role of Florence Fenster. Freddy Fenster will be portrayed by Craig DeForest.

The musical, with a cast of 80, will be performed the nights of Oct. 22, 23 and 24 at the Kingston High School Auditorium.

Entitled Up, Up and Away, the show is a parody on the exploits of a group of traveling tourists in London, Paris, Rome, Moscow, Tokyo, Rio de Janeiro and Honolulu.

The show will benefit the club's scholarship work and boys and girls programs and tickets may be obtained from local Kiwanis Club members.

Woman Found, Was Reported As Missing

TOWN OF SAUGERTIES A 78-year-old woman who was reported missing since about 6 p.m. Sunday when she left her home in this township, was found today by a posse of troopers from the Kingston Zone Headquarters in Lake Katrine who had conducted a search under command of Lieutenant A. F. Van Blaricum.

Mrs. Karin Sylvester of Fish Creek Road, High Falls, had been reported missing by her husband, Otto, who told authorities his wife left home presumably to take a walk in the woods.

Troopers reported this morning that the woman was found wandering in a wooded area not far from her home. She was to undergo an examination by a physician for possible exposure resulting from the overnight cold weather.

During the search of the woods today and Sunday night, troopers used the State Police bloodhounds.

Co-Chairman Named for Yule Seals

KINGSTON

Miss Rose Marie Feeney, R.N., long prominent in Kingston and area welfare and health work, has been appointed the Ulster Area co-chairman of the 1970 Christmas Seal Campaign. She will serve with Dr. Barbara Vasburgh, Greene area and Dr. Harry Golembe, Sullivan area, in leadership of the Christmas Seal drive of the Ulster-Greene-Sullivan area served by the Catskill Region TB and RD Association.

John M. Robbins, Association president, in announcing Miss Feeney's acceptance and appointment to the 1970 Christmas Seal Ulster Chairmanship noted: "We of the Catskill Region Christmas Seal group are deeply pleased to have Miss Feeney's professional stature and integrity as a guide to all of us in TB-RD Health work, and in its support via the traditional Christmas Seal. She, Dr. Golembe and Dr. Vasburgh now head-up our members and hundreds of Christmas Seal and Health program workers in this far-reaching three-county program who are now bending all their efforts toward a successful 1970 Christmas Seal Campaign."

Miss Feeney, a native of Kingston, is medical worker of the Ulster County Department of Social Services. A graduate of Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing; she also studied at Cornell University and the University of Michigan. She served with Ulster County Child Welfare Service for two years prior to her assumption of the Medical Department assignment in the Social Services Department.

Long active in the work of the TB-Respiratory Disease Association, she is treasurer and a director of the Catskill Region group, active member of its Executive Committee, and is a key member of its Personnel and Administrative Committee. She served the prior Ulster County TB and Health Association on its board of directors and executive committee, personnel and administrative committee, budget committee, also as its chairman, bylaws committee. She worked actively with the three-county reorganization committee which developed the Catskill Region TB and RD Association in consolidation of the prior separate 60 years active Ulster, Greene and Sullivan County TB-Health agencies.

Miss Feeney's other area activities have included director and executive committee of the Ulster County Mental Health Association, past presidency of the Ulster County Council of Social Agencies, Director of the Ulster County Diabetic Association; service on Board, Home Nursing Committee of the Ulster County Department of Health; and direct involvement in Community Nursing Educational and Informational program work.

Organizations, firms and long-time Christmas Seal health supporters will receive their Christmas Seal letter requesting continuing support within a week and up to the end of the month. The balance of Ulster, Greene and Sullivan Christmas Seal letters will reach area homes in mid-November. Special events and public information geared to the Christmas Seal Drive are being developed and will be featured during the traditional November, December Christmas Seal Campaign period.

Poet Set As Speaker At College

STONE RIDGE

Ross Talarico, a poet whose writings have been attracting increased attention, will speak at the Stone Ridge campus of Ulster County Community College on Thursday, Oct. 22, at 1:40 p.m.

The program, sponsored by the English department, will be held in Room 420 of the John Burroughs Science Building. It is open to the public as a community service and there is no admission charge.

Talarico will speak on "Poetry" and will read some of his own poems. His poems have been described as "dazzling" by Mark Strand, a fellow poet.

Talarico's poems have been published in "The Atlantic Monthly," "Poetry Northwest," "Shenandoah," and the "New American Review." He hopes to have a first collection of his poems published some time next year under the title of "Bad Lungs."

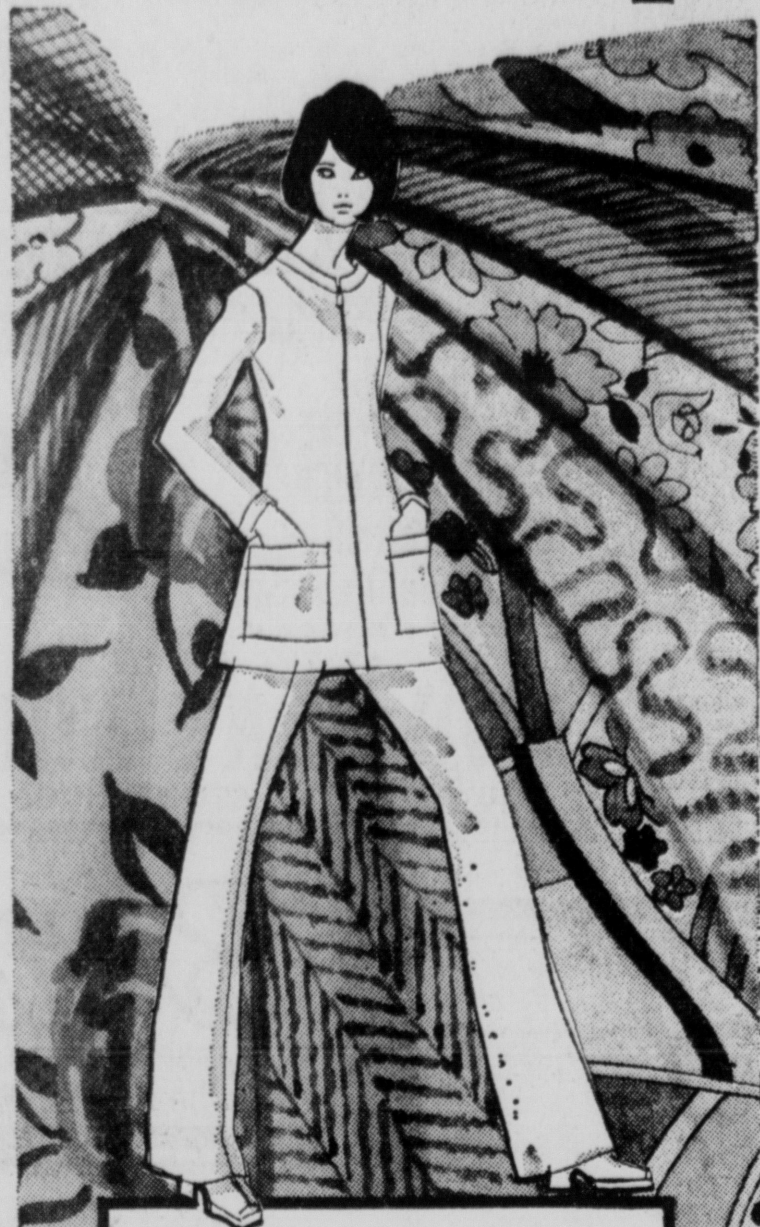

In addition to writing poetry, Talarico has raced motorcycles on scramble tracks in upstate New York and also formerly worked as a ghost writer for Senator Eugene McCarthy in his 1968 presidential campaign.

Talarico, a native of Rochester who now resides in Syracuse, is 25 years old. He attended Monroe Community College, Wisconsin State University and Syracuse University.

Election 'Not in Bag,' 1,000 GOPers Told

By LYNN MULVANEY

ACCORD The Nov. 3 election doesn't even approach "being in the bag" for the Republican Party, GOP State Chairman Charles T. Lanigan warned a crowd of more than 1,000 Sunday night at the Ulster County Republican Committee's 13th annual dinner at the Granit Hotel.

"If you don't get out and vote, we will lose this election and the Republican Party will disappear for 10 to 20 years," he said. "The polls show this to be a neck-and-neck race all the way. A failure to get out the Republican vote could be catastrophic."

Chairman of the 360-member New York State Republican Committee since 1969, Lanigan charged that Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's opponent Democrat Arthur Goldberg is "spreading false information across the state concerning Rockefeller's achievements and, is evidently the victim of grossly misinformed behind-the-scenes advisors."

Lanigan said that the drug issue, upon which Goldberg seeks to make capital, is classic. "The facts are that New York State operates the nation's most comprehensive treatment program for narcotic addicts," he said.

"In the four years of the state narcotics program, over 22,000 addicts have been provided with care, over 10,000 of them in the state's program of compulsory certification . . . the state provides more than six times as many treatment beds as does the entire federal government."

"And we are doing more. The state is financing the world's largest methadone maintenance program and the total number of participants will be 20,000 by April 1, 1971."

"Where is Goldberg getting his facts about the drug fight?" he asked.

Introduced by County Chairman Albert Spada, Lanigan also lauded the Rockefeller administration for its accomplishments in other areas such as "higher education, built from scratch since 1959 . . . revenue-sharing which returns $.63 of every dollar to the localities . . . advances in health and mental health."

Lanigan spoke of progress in all modes of transportation "including a close look at Rt. 209 in Ulster County."

Lanigan spoke of the Pure Waters Program "which in the next 10 years will show fantastic growth." He told of accomplishments in conservation, ecology and agriculture, in veteran's work and urban planning.

Warning again that if the Democrats are successful in electing Goldberg, "they will probably sweep the Assembly and the Senate," Lanigan said it would be naive for anyone to believe that under such circumstances the interests of the upstate community would be represented. Ticking off names of all the potential downstate Democratic office holders and state leaders, Lanigan called them "Goldberg's Manchettans" adding that their election would spell doom for all of upstate.

Sharing the dais with Lanigan were Vincent L. Tofany, State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles and Spada.

Other guests included Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr., State Sen. Jay P. Rolison, Assemblyman H. Clark Bell, Supreme Court candidate John L. Larkin, district attorney candidate Francis J. Vogt, County Treasurer Fred H. DuBois, County Coroner Arthur C. Chipp.

Also on the dais were Dinner Chairman Peter J. Savago, chairman of the Ulster County Legislature; co-chairman for the dinner, Mrs. Maria Jo Dunham; vice-chairman Ben J. Slutsky, Edwin F. Callahan and Mrs. William D. Brinnier.

Also, party secretary Clarence Anderson and treasurer William J. Collins; State Committeewoman Mrs. Frederick H. Stang, Commissioner of the State Workmen's Compensation Board George E. Yerry Jr., Mrs. Roger Kelly, president of the Ulster County Young Republican Club and Sister Mary Charles, administrator of Benedictine Hospital who gave the invocation and benediction.

The event also attracted GOP county chairmen from Orange, Columbia and Delaware counties as well as former Senator Lloyd Newcombe.

GOP DINNER—Two top Republican state officials were guests Sunday night at the annual Ulster County Republican Committee Dinner attended by more than 1,000 persons at the Granit Hotel. (L.) Vincent L. Tofany, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles; State Sen. Jay P. Rolison; Charles T. Lanigan, Republican state chairman and principal speaker, and Albert Spada, chairman of the Ulster County Republican Party. Also in attendance were Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. and Assemblyman H. Clark Bell as well as many county candidates. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Pine Bush Honors GIs, And Hard Hats Evident

PINE BUSH The legislatures of both Ulster and Orange Counties previously held Saturday night in Pine Bush to honor United States servicemen and women who have taken part in the Vietnam War.

About 200 men from Teamsters Local 445 and Laborers Local 17 of Newburgh came to the small community on the edge of Ulster and Orange Counties to march in tribute.

Contingents from the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, civic and service organizations, volunteer fire departments and police and sheriff's offices helped make up a parade of several thousand people.

Brig. Gen. Francis J. Higgins, military advisor to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and Rep. Martin McKneally attended.

Wounded Vietnam veterans from the Castle Point Veterans Hospital were guests of honor.

There were no speeches although a large number of dignitaries attended.

missioner of Public Welfare Douglas Couser, Wallkill State Prison Warden Nelson Otis, Orange County Sheriff William Sherman, Anthony Alecca Jr. of Teamsters Local 445; William Kelley, commander of the Orange County American Legion; Dr. James T. Daniels chief of staff, Castle Point Veterans Hospital.

A West Point color guard led off the parade with Sgt. George Sherman who served in Vietnam carrying the flag.

In planning the observance, Sellet, also a Vietnam veteran said, "Whether a war is just or unjust, the American GI has fought his country's wars. It is not his fault if a war is popular or unpopular, just or unjust."

"Seldom do we see recognition of the men who placed their lives on the line, for the honor of their country."

At the conclusion of the parade, a picnic was held for hundreds of persons at the village picnic grounds.

Public Affairs Department of Saugerties Woman's Club Outlines Calendar of Events

The Public Affairs Department of the Woman's Club of Saugerties met recently at the home of chairman, Mrs. Brian Sawchuk. A calendar of events for the Department was discussed, beginning with a project in connection with the recent Jaycee "Love the Esopus Day" program. Participation in this event involved a display regarding detergents and their phosphate content. The purpose of this information booth was to encourage consumers to purchase those detergents that contain a low phosphate chemistry or no phosphates at all, and to inform them that by doing so they are joining the fight against water pollution.

On Oct. 22 the Public Affairs Department will present the guest speaker when the Woman's Club meets at 8 p.m. at the Dutch Arms Chapel.

The topic will be "Pollution and the Individual," and guest speakers will be Alexander Saunders Jr. and Professor and Mrs. Richard Wilkie. Their presentation is sponsored by the Hudson River Sloop Restoration, Inc. Interested area groups have also been invited to attend this meeting.

Mrs. Sawchuk announced that the Senior Citizen's luncheon at the Exchange Hotel is once again underway. This luncheon is held the first Wednesday of the month from September to April and offers dinners from a varied menu at a special discount price. If needed, transportation is provided by department members.

Once again vacant store windows in the Village will be decorated for the Christmas holidays, and plans for this project have already begun. The food, magazine and clothing drive for migrant workers is drawing to a close, and will be replaced by another project in conjunction with the Neighborhood Service Center: donation of Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners to a needy family. This year an Easter dinner will also be donated.

Members of the Public Affairs Department of the Woman's Club of Saugerties are Mrs. William Kendall, Mrs. Robert Finger Jr., Mrs. George Leombruno, Mrs. Jerome Milosek, Mrs. George Puram, Mrs. Thomas Zulick, Mrs. James Coffey, Mrs. Dexter O. Arnold, Mrs. Frank Lauer, Mrs. Wayne Brunkhurst, Mrs. Joseph Benjamin, Mrs. James Mills, Mrs. Walter Stoltz, Mrs. Joseph Sullivan, Mrs. William Cowley, and Mrs. Donald Simmons.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Daily Freeman Tea and Workshop Tuesday; Special Entertainment From West Point

Presidents and publicity chairmen of women's clubs and organizations will be gathering at the Governor Clinton Hotel in Kingston at 3:30 on Tuesday for the Freeman's Third Annual Tea and Publicity Workshop. Letters of invitation have been mailed and those planning to attend have been busy confirming their invitations with the Woman's Department.

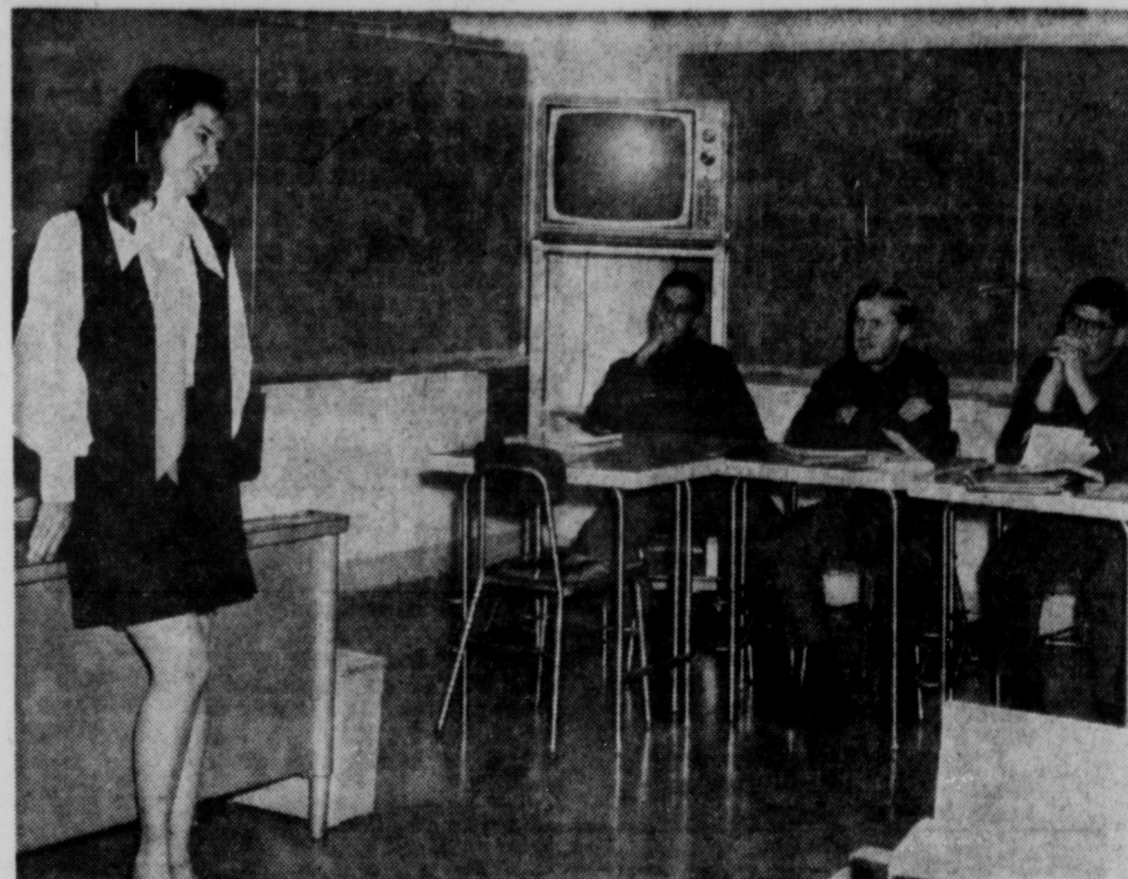

One of the highlights of the afternoon will be appearance of Joan Patenaude, lyric soprano and affiliate artist at West Point Academy.

In addition to the musical program, tea and workshop in which Key Freeman personnel will participate, those attending will receive the 1970 Women's Club Directory which was compiled by the Freeman Woman's Department. The directory lists distaff organizations in Ulster and Dutchess Counties.

Richard L. Treat, vice president and general manager of The Freeman will welcome guests and Mrs. Narel will conduct the workshop. Freeman staff members attending will include Louis R. Netter, editor; Peter Barrecchia, managing editor; Irwin Thomas, city editor; Edward Palladino, assistant city editor; Warren Simmons, business manager; and Robert Saehloff, advertising manager. Also Tobie Geertsema, Tempo editor; Jean Dolan, city desk assistant; and Lynn Mulvaney, Freeman reporter.

Guest artist for the afternoon, Joan Patenaude, received her early musical and vocal training in Montreal. Her studies were sponsored by the Canadian Council and the Government of Quebec. As one of the Metropolitan Opera auditions winners, she continued her studies in New York under the Kathryn Turney Long Scholarship Fund and under a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation. She then made her New York debut with the New York City Opera. In June, 1969, she made her debut with the San Francisco Opera in the title role of "Juliette" in Gounod's "Romeo and Juliette." The JOAN PATENAUDE discusses the artistry of interpreting various operatic roles as a guest speaker in an English class at the United States Military Academy, West Point. The artist is appearing through the courtesy of the Academy and a grant from the Sears-Roebuck Foundation.

New York City Opera, San Francisco Opera, Pittsburgh Opera, Lake George Opera, Fort Worth Opera, Canadian Opera, and the Goldovsky Opera Theatre are only a few of the many companies with which Miss Patenaude has performed and of which she is presently a member.

Miss Patenaude's vocal versatility and brilliant coloratura singing cover and especially wide range of roles. She also performs with leading orchestras throughout the United States and Canada.

One of the unusual talents that Miss Patenaude possesses, however, and which sets her apart from many of her peers, is her versatility. "She is a singing actress who really knows how to put a character over with honesty and point," says one critic. Her musical interests extend far beyond classical and semi-classical music; she is also interested in musical comedy and show tunes, folk songs and popular and contemporary music, all of which she performs with remarkable facility.

Area Women Named to Promote 'Million Dollar Millennium'

Mrs. Henry J. Bruck of Kingston, has announced the names of some of the many women who are planning and promoting the Benedictine Hospital "Million Dollar Millennium" to be held Sunday, Nov. 15 at the Granit Hotel in Kerhonkson.

Co-ordinator of the Women's Division, Mrs. Henry J. Bruck stated that invitations to the gala event are being mailed this week with the following women donating their time to invitations and tickets: Mrs. Edward Coppo, president of the Benedictine Hospital Auxiliary; Mrs. Isaac Foster, Mrs. Arthur Nash, Mrs. Robert Heine, Mrs. Henry Bruck Jr. and Mrs. Vincent Bruck.

Projects, including the promotion of the event which will be preceded by a cocktail hour from 5 to 6:30 p.m., are being handled by Mrs. John Feltham, Mrs. John A. Olivet, Mrs. Eugene Gormley of Phoenixia, Mrs. Frank Koenig, Mrs. Bernard A. Feeney Jr., Mrs. Herbert Siller, Mrs. Jan Graham, Mrs. Rita Matthews, Rosendale;

Mrs. Anthony Vicevich, Saugerties; Mrs. Peter Savago, New Paltz; Mrs. Robert Stapleton, Ellenville.

The reservations committee consists of Mrs. William Cranston, Mrs. Donald Abernathy and Mrs. Alexander Schoen.

The event is planned as a celebration of the fact that friends of Benedictine Hospital have already raised more than $1 million for the building of the Spellman Pavilion. The five-year fund raising drive for the new addition was recently culminated.

Piano Recital By Blanca Uribe Slated Wednesday

The Department of Music at Vassar College will present a piano recital by Blanca Uribe at 8:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 21 in Skinner Recital Hall, Poughkeepsie.

Miss Uribe, who was born in Bogota, Colombia, studied in Vienna, and at the Juilliard School of Music with Rosina Lhevinne and Martin Canin. She has been a prizewinner in many international competitions including the Chopin International Competition in Warsaw, the International Competition in Rio de Janeiro, and the Van Cliburn Competition in Texas.

She has had numerous appearances in the United States, Europe, and South America.

Miss Uribe, an assistant professor at Vassar, will perform works by Beethoven, Schubert, Scarlatti, and Villa-Lobos. The concert is open to the public without charge.

Beverly Jean Nichols Weds Thomas W. Rigney Here

MRS. THOMAS W. RIGNEY

Miss Beverly Jean Nichols, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford C. Nichols, 23 Guyton Street, Kingston, became the bride of Thomas W. Rigney, Lawrenceville Street, Kingston, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James C. Rigney Sr., on Oct. 17 in the First Baptist Church, Kingston.

The Rev. Norman F. Blot officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Jane Pedersen, organist, accompanied Henry Peyer who sang traditional wedding selections. Two vases of white gladioli and pompons decorated the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown of Chantilly lace, fashioned with an empire bodice and an A-line skirt which was softly gathered in the back from the waistline. Small covered buttons trimmed the entire length of the gown in the front. The gown was styled with a ring neckline and tapered sleeves. Her mantilla was bordered with Venice lace and she carried a bouquet of gladioli and stephanotis.

Mrs. Sandra Potter, Horton Lane, Port Ewen, served as matron of honor in a blue crepe A-line gown. The gown featured a ring neckline and a bolero look of navy Venice lace. The cuffs of her bishop sleeves were trimmed with the same lace. A cluster of velvet pearl-edged leaves held her four tier veil and she carried a cascade of white gladioli and pompons, tipped with blue.

Attendants were Miss Nancy Winchell, cousin of the bride; Mrs. George Albright, sister of the bridegroom; and Mrs.

Bonnie Coddington, cousin of the bride. Their orchid crepe gowns were identical to that of the matron of honor's with boleros of purple Venice lace. Each attendant carried a cascade of orchid pompons and white gladioli.

Miss Sandra Kaschel, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl in a gown similar in styling to the other attendants'. She carried a fireside basket of gladioli and pompons and wore a headpiece of pompons and gladioli.

James C. Rigney Jr., brother of the bridegroom, Far Rockaway, was best man. Ushers were Richard Scism; Bruce Nichols, Donald Nichols, brothers of the bride; and Robert Sutton, cousin of the bride, who served as junior usher. Patrick John McCloskey, cousin of the bride, served as ringbearer.

A reception for 150 guests was held at the Walnut Grove, Field Court, Kingston.

For her wedding trip to Florida, the bride wore a gray tunic pants suit and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Kingston High School and is employed as a legal secretary for the firm of Cook, Tucker and Dwyer, Kingston.

Her husband attended Kingston High School and served four years with the U.S. Air Force. He is employed by Nytralite, Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Rigney will reside at 54 Lawrenceville Street, Kingston.

Coach House Players Meeting Held Recently

The regular meeting of the Coach House Players was held at the Coach House, 12 Augusta Street on October 12. President Francis Gardner conducted the meeting. The annual financial report was given by treasurer, William Chavis.

A report on the annual membership drive for associate members was given by Roger Scholl. The response so far surpasses last year. Reservations for season ticket holders will be made on November 4, 5 and 6 at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

George Quartell, program chairman, introduced Richard Becker who presented films of past productions.

With a harvest decor of pumpkins and chrysanthemums, cider and doughnuts were served by Peggy Crosby, Dorothy Scholl and Linda Quartell.

There will be a production meeting on October 28, and help is needed on Wednesday nights to work on the set for "Sound of Music".

Bus Trip to Vanderlyn Exhibit Scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 25

A bus trip sponsored by YWCA, American Heritage Committee, and Daughters of American Revolution, Wiltwyck Chapter, will take place Sunday, Oct. 25 to the University of Binghamton to view the John Vanderlyn art exhibit. Reservations may be made by contacting the YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue, Kingston.

The bus will leave from the YWCA building at 9:30 a.m. and travel the scenic Rte. 17 to the University of Binghamton. This is the second exhibit devoted to the paintings, both privately owned, of the world famous Kingston artist, given since his death in 1852 in Kingston. His funeral was the first event to occur from the present edifice of the Old Dutch Church. The dedication of this building occurred the evening after the funeral service.

The catalogue for this exhibit was prepared by Dr. Kenneth C. Lindsay, art historian of the University of Binghamton, through a grant from the New York State Council on the Arts. The exhibit will only be shown at Binghamton, although the Smithsonian Institution of Washington also wants to display it. The exhibit will continue to November 8th.

Herbert Cutler, curator of Senate House, and John Remensnyder, Director of Board of Trustees of Senate House, have both contributed to the catalogue. Mr. Cutler has traced the genealogy of the Vanderlyn Family. Paintings from many museums will be included besides the ones that are being lent by the Senate House Museum. The most noteworthy is "Marius Viewing The Ruins of Carthage" which brought Vanderlyn international fame when Napoleon presented him with a gold medal.

45th WEDDING ANNIVERSARIES

(Studio Ten)

Northern Dutchess Hospital In Rhinebeck Honors Patients

It may not be the Ritz, but dinner at Northern Dutchess Hospital in Rhinebeck for two couples Wednesday, Oct. 7 was more than just second best.

It came to the attention of Peggy Smith, patient service counselor, that two patients, Mrs. William Callahan and John Colburn, were each celebrating a 45th wedding anniversary. Some quick phone calls to the dietary department produced a gourmet meal served in the east solarium complete with wine and an anniversary cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Callahan of Stanfordville were married 45 years ago in Flushing, L. I. Mrs. Callahan remembers the day as "beautiful, just such a day as today is."

Forty-five years ago in Amsterdam, N. Y. where Mr. and Mrs. Colburn were married, it was cold and snowy, a day "with ice all over the roads," Mr. Colburn recalled.

The Callahans, who have recently moved to this area from New York City, have four married children and 19 grandchildren. The Colburns from Red Hook, also have four married children, all sons, and eight grandchildren.

While neither couple is eager to make reservations for any future celebrations, they agreed that this year's anniversary dinner was "delicious" and Mrs. Callahan complimented the dietary department who "went out of their way to make things nice for us."

YWCA Lists Fall Classes for Adults, Youth

The YWCA is now offering a drama class on Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock. The six-week series starts October 21 and will be taught by Mrs. Ethel Sacher.

Mrs. Sacher formerly of the Syracuse University, Drama Department, taught and studied there for seven years. Her teaching included action, directing, costuming, scene design, lighting, and children's theater.

Former students of Mrs. Sacher are Gale Dixon, a featured player in "Coco," Peter Maloney and Ellen Schindler who recently appeared at the Vivian Beaumont Theatre.

Author of "Gossamer Song," and "Queen Agra's Magic," Mrs. Sacher has also directed "Annals" and "The Night Visitors," and "Christ in the Concrete City," performed at the Old Dutch Church in Kingston.

A Baton Twirling class is now on the program at the YWCA on Saturdays: grades one through six from 2:30 to 3:30 and grades seven through nine from 3:30 to 4:30. The class runs for eight weeks and is taught by Mrs. Kathleen Fesko.

Beginning bridge class for teens will start October 28 from 4 to 5 o'clock at the YWCA. The class will be taught by Mrs. Marie Bell for six weeks.

A beginning bridge class for adults will start Wednesday, Oct. 21 at 10 a.m. The six-week classes will be taught by Gail Whidholm.

A new club started at the YWCA today for junior high school girls. Future plans include a slumber party, a horseback riding trip, new crafts projects, and many other events. All girls in seventh, eighth or ninth grades are invited on Mondays from 4 to 5 p.m.

Other classes scheduled include a slimnastics class beginning Tuesday, Oct. 27 from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Brigham School gym. The class will be taught by Mrs. Linda Ernie for eight weeks.

A physician's certificate is required. Women are requested to dress comfortably. A yoga class will start soon also, if enough interest is shown.

Those interested are requested to contact the YWCA for registration for classes. YWCA membership is required for all classes and clubs. The YWCA is a member agency of Ulster County Community Chest.

'Bonus Night' Set For This Evening

The YWCA, 209 Clinton Avenue, Kingston, will hold a "Bonus Night" for all members tonight at 7:30 o'clock. A combined effort of the Program and Membership Committees, "Bonus Nights" will be held periodically throughout the year, presenting widely diversified programs geared toward today's women. "Bonus Nights" will be free to all members of the YWCA; non-members will pay a nominal charge for the affairs.

Monday's program will present Mr. Joseph, of Saugerties, with a fashion show of wigs, so important in today's world. Featuring three live models, the show will present all styles of wigs. Mr. Joseph will discuss their use, and care.

Refreshments will be served. All women of the area are invited to attend this new innovation in the YWCA's ever-increasing schedule.

Guest Artist at Philharmonic Concert

Pianist Rudolf Firkusny will be the guest artist when the Hudson Valley Philharmonic Orchestra opens its 12th season this weekend with concerts in Middletown, Poughkeepsie and Kingston.

Firkusny will appear with the orchestra in concerts Saturday at the Middletown High School, Sunday at the Poughkeepsie High School and Monday at the Kingston High School, all at 8:30 p.m.

The world-renowned artist will play the Schumann Piano Concerto in A minor. The Philharmonic, led by music director Claude Montoux, will also perform the Ravel "Mother Goose" Suite and the Symphonie Fantastique by Berlioz.

The Middletown concert will be sponsored by the Greater Middletown Arts Council as part of its 1970-71 season of programs. An open dress rehearsal has also been slated for Friday evening at the Rockland Community College in Suffern.

Firkusny, a long-time resident of the Hudson Valley with a home in Staatsburg, is internationally acknowledged to be a master of both classical and contemporary piano literature.

A veteran of countless European tours and appearances with every major American orchestra, Firkusny has, according to Harold Schonberg, of The New York Times, "a caressing touch, an aristocratic musical mind and a facile technique."

A native of Czechoslovakia, Firkusny was a child prodigy and made his debut with the Prague Philharmonic Orchestra at the age of 10. A student of Vilma Kurz and Arthur Schnabel, he was well-known throughout Europe before his eighteenth birthday.

His New York recital debut in 1941 was a tremendous success and immediately established him as the foremost exponent of the great Czech composers: Dvorak, Janacek, Smetana, Suk and Martinu, and a leading champion of contemporary American piano works.

A Steinway artist represented on Capitol, Columbia, Decca, Deutsche Grammophon and RCA Victor recordings, Firkusny will open his American concert tour when he appears with the Philharmonic next weekend.

The concerts in Middletown, Poughkeepsie and Kingston will also mark the permanent appointment of violinist Edward Simons, as associate conductor and concertmaster of the Philharmonic. A member of the Rockland Community College music faculty, Mr. Simons lives in Spring Valley.

MUSICAL SOCIETY DINNER MEETING—Robert Moore, center, was guest speaker Wednesday, Oct. 14, at the dinner meeting of the Musical Society of Kingston which was held in the Senate Room of Kirkland Hotel, Kingston. Among those in attendance were (L-R) Miss Constance Flood, program chairman; Mrs. Bernard Forst, dinner chairman; Robert Moore; Mrs. John MacKinnon, dinner chairman, and Mrs. Amos Newcombe, president of the Musical Society. Look Here Mrs. Homemaker!

STORYTELLING

With the widespread use of "canned amusement" in radio and television, storytelling has been neglected in many homes, says Phyllis W. Barlow, Extension Home Economist. A story told, with or without a book to lean on, can be stimulating to a child's imagination and bring the adult and child into a closer relationship. Through storytelling a parent or grandparent may share experiences and stress values.

Storytelling is one of the creative experiences where it is easy to acquire the necessary skill. Memorizing a story is not necessary nor is it important to have a special time and place for storytelling. Let the stories be based on the child's own experience and on the questions he asks. When he asks, "Why?" "How?" "Where?" "What makes it go?" or "What will it be like?", the mother has the basis for a story. He will also be interested in stories of his parents' childhood.

Children should be encouraged to tell stories of their own, both true and fanciful. Mothers should take time to listen and ask to have special stories told over again. Children will love to share their interests and experiences, and a wise mother can learn a great deal about the development of her children by the stories they tell.

Children enjoy taking turns in telling a story. The mother may start the story and then when the child is ready, let him carry it along. It becomes a game to have one pick up the story where the other leaves off.

Another suggestion for storytelling is to have everyone try to be very quiet and listen, and then tell a story about whatever they hear but cannot see. It may be the sound of rain on the roof, or the wind in the trees, or barking of a dog, or a train whistle. Some of the sounds they have heard may be imitated and used in the story. This game can be played indefinitely any time, any place.

It is fairly easy to shift from storytelling to playing the role of one of the characters in the story. In telling a story about Indians, it is easy to dress up by merely adding a feather and a blanket. Simple costumes combine naturally with storytelling. A costume box may provide excitement for many a rainy day.

A scrapbook of pictures offers a simple way to pin down, organize, and extend a child's ideas. Old magazines furnish an infinite number of pictures to cut out. A child can make a book of the things he wants for Christmas, or various kinds of flowers, birds, etc.

Young children love nonsense rhymes that mean little but are fun to say. If a mother begins with "The cat is fat" the child may come back with "He sat and sat." It can always end with "Just think of that." Such experiences help to enlarge the child's vocabulary and increase his skill in expressing himself.

'Pretty Girl' Look Is 'In'

By ANN HENCKEN
AP Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "The dress is where it's at. I think the dress will make a big comeback," said Leo Narducci at his resort-spring showing.

Last year, many designers were saying, "The separates look is where it's at." So, if you bought midi separates, you are presumably no longer where it's really at.

Although Narducci showed jumpsuits and short bloomers Thursday, he was most enthusiastic about his whirlwind ankle length dresses with a very soft Pretty Girl mood—narrow waists, full sleeves and scoop necks. He used a beautiful shade of blue for one bandon series.

"You have to do what people can cope with," said Anne-Marie Gardin for Papillon, who designed more dresses for her resort and spring line than she did for her first fall collection this year.

Separates were a good way for a woman to get used to the midi feeling, she said. A midi skirt doesn't look as long to the eye as a midi dress. Now that the midi shock is over, dresses have become more important. Miss Gardin showed a number of Swiss cotton knit dresses with white enamel butterflies on the belts. Almost all the clothes were prints.

By next fall, women will wear ankle length skirts for daytime, said Miss Gardin, showing a token number with ruffles at the hem.

"After that, maybe something from the moon," she said, laughing.

Pioneers Spoil KHS Homecoming Day

TOUCHDOWN TIANO—Kingston High School fullback John Tiano (30) rolls into the end zone for his team's only touchdown Saturday against Poughkeepsie. Jerry Watzka (51) lowers the boom on Poughkeepsie's Tony Johnson (42) to spring Tiano as PHS players Jim Foster (15) and Donny Turnquest (46) try to move in. Poughkeepsie spoiled the KHS Homecoming with a 20-8 victory. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

By MORT LAFFIN

KINGSTON Although you can't tell it by the score, the Fighting Maroons of Kingston High School played their finest game Saturday, losing to visiting Poughkeepsie, 20-8 at Dietz Stadium. The game was Homecoming Day, A Tribute to Tommy Maines, former KHS football great and a near-overflow crowd watched as the visiting Pioneers made the most of two fumbles, two intercepted passes and a couple of questionable calls to gain the win.

The extra-curricular activities were planned by the KHS Student Council. The Council donated a trophy in honor of Maines, awarded by Mrs. Maines to the Most Valuable Player on the Maroon squad. A poll of coaches and attending members of the news media, newspaper and radio, gave the award to John Tiano, a junior who played both ways and was a standout offensively and defensively in this game as he has been all season long.

But, as John would be the first to admit, the win would have been more of a reward than the trophy and he and the rest of the Kingston squad played tough, hard-nosed football in a valiant attempt to realize that goal, a goal that has eluded the locals through the first four games this season.

Kingston kicked to Poughkeepsie to start the contest and a fired up KHS defense forced the visitors to punt after the first three downs. Tony Johnson, hard-driving back for Poughkeepsie, got off a 45-yard punt and put the Maroons on their 35.

Led by Mark Snyder and Wesley Cole, the Maroons picked up the initial first down and were driving over the 50-yard line. Three running plays failed to gain the first down and a pass from Glenn Littlefield to Don Lackaye left them two yards short of the first down, PHS taking the ball.

Larry Johnson, a converted center, started at quarterback for PHS on this drive and fired two passes to Tony Johnson for 20 yards. Amos Howard, Tony J. and Larry Brown then started running the ball and Poughkeepsie moved to the 14-yard line.

From there, QB Johnson hit Dickie Clark with an 11-yarder and Tony Johnson, Bubba to his friends, barreled over from the three-yard line for the TD. The try for point was missed. A penalty let them try it again and they missed again. The score: PHS 6, KHS 0.

The Maroons took the ball and started to move after the kick, but a fumble nullified the drive and Poughkeepsie took over.

The Pioneers couldn't move against the KHS defense and the halftime score remained, 6-0.

The Kingston secondary really came into its own in the second quarter as Dave Kwasnowski, Ralph Longendyke, Roy Washington and Abe Robinson, time and again knocked down at tempted tosses by Johnson and company.

A lost fumble by Kingston and a 63-yard punt, on the run by Bubba, kept the Maroons in a hole and they couldn't move the ball over the 50-yard line. Kingston Coach Tony Badalato's worst fears were realized as the first half came to a close. Littlefield suffered an injury to his throwing arm and couldn't finish the game.

Last week, Badalato lost Ralph Perry for the season against Gloversville and the injury to Littlefield forced the Maroons to go with junior varsity signal-caller Walt Houghtaling, a sophomore.

With Cole and Tiano carrying the ball, Kingston moved for three first downs and appeared to have the momentum. However, a penalty and two blown plays cost them the ball and Poughkeepsie took over, again in Kingston territory.

Johnson and Johnson started the PHS drive for the second score. But the drive was halted initially by a Ralph Longendyke interception. Poughkeepsie again took over the ball on downs and this time they couldn't be stopped as Johnson hit Charlie Smith from seven yards out for the TD. Johnson then connected with Bubba for the two-point conversion and PHS had a 14-0 lead.

The ball changed hands again as the defensive play of Tom Brocco, Jeff Lowe, Tiano, John Harris and John McCumber forced the visitors to give up the ball.

Kingston started a drive with Tiano and Cole doing most of the damage. But, a Houghtaling pass was picked off by Bubba and Poughkeepsie again started to drive, moving inside the 10-yard line.

On the next play, Sheldon Davis hit in the middle at the seven-yard line. Tiano grabbed the ball from Davis and went down on the eight. No whistle. However, once the whistle was blown, the Pioneers were allowed to keep the ball.

The Kingston players argued vehemently, and rightfully so, and, in the process, incurred a penalty half the distance to the goal line for unsportsmanlike conduct. Badalato ran onto the field to argue the point further and incurred another penalty that put the ball on the two-yard line.

The KHS defense was really fired up now and two plays later had Poughkeepsie back on the 12. But, scabcat Howard put an end to the shenanigans as he broke around left end for the score. The try-for-points was again missed and Poughkeepsie had the lead, 20-0.

The defense got the Maroons on the board in the fourth period as John Harris blasted through the line to block a punt. The ball rolled into the end zone where a Poughkeepsie player fell on it and was smothered.

KHS tacklers, led by Harris, Kingston took the ball after the kick and with Tiano and Cole doing most of the damage, drove in for the TD. Tiano took the ball over from the three.

The attempt at the two-point conversion was missed and the final score had PHS 20, KHS 8.

SIDE BARS: Houghtaling showed a lot of moxie for a soph thrown into the breach and should be a real good one in the future. Bubba Johnson played an outstanding game for the visitors. Tiano was his usual tremendous self. The Maroons might have broken the game or the second half kick off as they tried an end-around reverse. But, a fumble killed the play. Mistakes were again costly and while KHS showed improvement in a lot of areas, their inability to pass block consistently hurt them greatly.

The scoring difference was

This might hold true for a two extra points booted by had Allen Zahn on a two-yard plunge in the first period and the other starting halfback, Mike Sidote, going over from the one in the fourth quarter.

Saugerties got on the board on a 49-yard pass play from quarterback Rich Koegel to end Skip Van Blaricum in the second period. And the Sawyers took the lead in the third quarter on another Koegel pass to Mike Bond from five yards out.

Strong, chilly winds spelled disaster in both teams passing game, as either a powerful tailwind or headwind would alter the flight of the ball.

Saugerties went 4-17 in the air for 85 yards and Ketcham a little better at 4-10 for 89.

The Sawyers led in first downs at 12 to 8, and in rushing yardage at 131 to 100.

The game went like this: After Saugerties was forced to punt the first two times it had the ball, Ketcham drove downfield with two first downs, including a 35 yard pass to end Jim Van Voorhis, to set up Zahn's score.

Saugerties' first score was set up on a fumble recovery by Junior tackle Bob Andreassen at midfield. Van Blaricum took the pass down the middle for the 49 yard TD.

Koegel was outstanding in the third period, first intercepting a Heady pass on the Ketcham 40 with a high leap, then recovering a fumble on the Ketcham 15 yard line.

Fullback Dee White carried to the vie, Koegel picked up the first down on a keeper to the two, and Bond scored the six points to put the Sawyers ahead 12-7.

Ketcham put together its longest sustained drive of the game, picking up five first downs in a row in the late third period to finally score the winning touchdown early in the fourth. This included a 25 yard pass play to Zahn and a 14 yarder to Van Voorhis.

Saugerties still had plenty of time to put another TD on the board in the fourth, and held onto the ball downfield for five consecutive first downs.

Some picture plays included a fingertip pass catch by Bond on a fourth down and eight yard situation that was good for the first down.

But a fumble on the Ketcham 18 after a 20 yard pass to Gary Myer gave the ball back to the winners, and they held onto it until the gun sounded. Mike Kenney made the recovery.

Saugerties will go against John Jay in Fishkill this Saturday, hoping to improve on a 1-4 record. Coach Fred Seither can only hope that the obvious talent on his team can escape some of the clutch mistakes that have plagued it thus far.

The Highlanders host New Paltz next Saturday. Highland got off to a quick start in the first period, scoring 14 points as Perry Monroe blotted over from five yards out for the first score. Monroe had set up his touchdown run with a 25-yard scamper to the five. Doug Geer passed to Ron Monroe for the two-point conversion.

Monroe blasted from two yards out after Highland moved the ball from around the 50-yard line. The try for points was missed.

The powerful Highlander fullback scored his third TD early in the second quarter on a 21-yard burst over tackle. The PATs were missed and Highland had the lead 20-0.

Mattice scored again early in added a score in the first half on a five-yard keeper play. The PATs were again missed and Highland had a halftime margin of 26-0.

Mattice scored again early in the third period on the same play, a five-yard keeper. The points were missed and the score read Highland 32, Wallkill 0.

Wallkill scored in the third period as quarterback Bob Coy went around end 32 yards for the score. The PAT was missed.

Highland's final tally came in the fourth period as Carlos Rodriguez blasted through from seven yards out. The Highlanders again missed the try-for-points and the final score read: Highland 38, Wallkill 6.

Atkins was quite pleased with the overall performance of his club and made liberal use of his second stringers in the second half. Dennis Bragg, Monroe, Pete Mazzetti and Geer were singled out as having played a fine game.

Hawk Booters Down Adelphi in Overtime Contest

IN THE GOAL—New Paltz State goalie Bob Sanborn makes a fine play to stop an Adelphi shot at the net in Saturday's contest between the two State powers at the New Paltz campus. The Hawks, making a strong bid for post-season tournament play, defeated the visitors, 3-1, in overtime.

By IR FUSFELD

NEW PALTZ Opportunity knocked, and knocked, and knocked for the State University soccer team here Saturday and Jerry Soulios finally heard it in time to open the door in the first overtime of the Hawks game with Adelphi. Jerry's goal gave New Paltz the lead they never relinquished as they beat the State's tenth ranked Panthers, 3-1.

This was the game New Paltz needed to give them their final big push into prominence for the season and they won it in one of the most exciting finishes in recent years.

The Hawks and Adelphi were tied late in the fourth quarter when high scoring Elliott Poggi-Asare broke away from the field to go in alone on goalie Kirk Kaplan. But Poggi was tripped in the penalty area enabling New Paltz to get a penalty kick. The try was awarded to Bob Hippy, who had never missed one in his college career—until this time.

Hippy's low drive hit squarely on the post. He later said a combination of the wind and of tenseness caused the miss. But the Hawks received a break when they were awarded another try because an Adelphi player was in the area at the time of Hippy's shot.

This time Poggi-Asare took the shot—and he too missed, the ball banging into the same spot on the post. Before the quarter ended New Paltz had hit the top cross bar two more times.

However, New Paltz, in quest of their seventh straight win, kept coming back. The hustle finally paid off at 3:52 of the first five minute overtime. Poggi-Asare took the ball on the right side and let go with a wicked shot which, naturally, hit the post, but Soulios caught the rebound with his head and knocked it in for the go-ahead tally.

They added insurance in the final extra period when Walter Blair converted on a rebound of a Tsegaye Taye shot. Taye had set things up beautifully, dribbling the ball up the right side and putting off a good shot and Blair was Johnny-on-the-spot when goalie Kaplan knocked the ball in his direction. The Hawks had taken the early lead when Bernie Schaeffer hit the far corner of the net with a low shot at 11:26. This play was set up by Foday Saccob.

Adelphi countered in the fourth after it looked like New Paltz would hang on for the shutout. The Panther goalmaker was Harry Stover, his shot beating Bob Sanborn from a crowd in front of the goal.

The loss was Adelphi's third of the year. The Panthers will undoubtedly be unseated by

New Paltz in this week's ratings, if the Hawks don't go even further up.

A jubilant coach Bob Durkin praised his entire club, especially goalie Sanborn, Blair, Saccob, and Winston Mauricette. "Adelphi was skilled and aggressive," he said, "but we played our game."

New Paltz next meets Cortland State on the road, Wednesday. Their final home game is with Plattsburgh on Saturday.

Syracuse Dumps Penn. State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two weeks ago the future looked mighty dim for the Orangemen of Syracuse, but now it is not too difficult to get coach Ben Schwartzwalder to talk "Lambert Trophy."

Syracuse fortunes turned slightly around with a victory over Maryland last week after three straight losses. But, the real upswing came Saturday when the Orangemen upset Penn State 24-7.

Meanwhile this weekend only four of the upstate New York area's 14 other college teams claimed victory. Cornell fell from the unbeaten ranks on the whim of a final period Harvard field goal that put the Crimson on 27-24, but Alfred made it five straight at the expense of Hobart 31-22.

"We've got five more games, all against eastern teams," the coach of the 2-3 Orange said Sunday. "Maybe it's possible to win the trophy, but it would take a miracle."

A miracle? Perhaps. Or perhaps just some lucky scheduling.

None of the traditional Big Five eastern teams are having great seasons, and Penn State has already topped Boston College. Of the Lambert trophy eligibles, Syracuse meets four in the next five weeks with an even chance against each.

West Virginia and Pittsburgh, both on the Orange schedule, are the other possibilities. Unless an Ivy League school convinces the Lambert committee it is playing well above its class, as has happened only twice in the last 20 years, the trophy may go to Syracuse by default. The only Ivy unbeaten so far are Yale and Dartmouth.

Elsewhere in the state, Cortland made certain Brockport state remained non-winning with a 28-0 drubbing. Buffalo failed to score while going down to Dayton 41-0 and RPI rounded out the list of shutout victims thanks to Union 14-0.

Princeton topped Colgate 34-14. Middlebury squeaked by Hamilton 21-20. Ithaca beat Wilkes 25-21 to make it two in a row. Rochester proved the better of Amherst 14-9 and St. Lawrence fell to Norwich by a decisive 37-14.

Hulme Has Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Denis Hulme of New Zealand and Richard Petty of Randleman, N.C., are race drivers who collect other things besides titles and money.

Hulme likes antiques and has quite a few of them in the home he maintains in England. He also has a room full of track memorabilia, not the least of which is the Johnson's Wax trophy he got for winning the Canadian-American Challenge Cup series in 1968.

The 34-year-old KeeWill will add another Can-Am trophy to his collection later this year. Hulme clinched the title in the million dollar series Sunday by winning the ninth race in the 10-event series at Laguna Seca, near Monterey, Calif.

Hulme also collects American dollars. He'll pick up the champion's share of $50,000 from the Can-Am bonus fund to add to the $87,000 he has taken from the race-by-race prize fund.

Petty, 33, collects time pieces. One of the bonus awards to winners of races at Martinsville Va., Speedway is a handsome grandfather clock.

The Plymouth-driving Petty won his ninth race at Martinsville Sunday. In addition to the check for $8,775, one of the items stowed carefully away in his tow truck was his ninth grandfather clock. Since he has run out of space for clocks, this one will go to a crew member.

The Can-Am at Monterey and the 262.5-mile stock car go at Martinsville highlighted a light weekend of auto racing. And since Hulme and Petty were heavily favored to win, the races went according to form.

Hulme, winning the third title in a row for Team McLaren, led the Can-Am from start to finish but crossed the finish line only 1.2 seconds ahead of England's Jackie Oliver. The latter was driving a new version of the Autocast T122, a machine that uses lightweight titanium in its body structure.

Petty had considerably less trouble in winning his 17th stock car race of the season, leading all but 20 of the 500 laps over the .525-mile Martinsville oval. He finished the race in a lap by himself and also set a track record of 72.235 miles per hour.

Nevins Trophy

KINGS POINT, N.Y. (UPI)—The U.S. Merchant Marine Academy won the Nevins Trophy regatta Sunday with Stevens Tech second and Navy third. The leaders were followed by the New York State Maritime College, Coast Guard, Tufts, Wisconsin, Webb, Princeton, Cornell, Tulane, Monmouth, Penn. New York University and Albany State.

Bowling Scores

BOB REYNOLDS headlined play in the Saugerties Merchants League with scores of 220-211-211 for a strong 641 triple. Bill Peter was nearly as good with 232 while Joe Maines slugged a 630; Jack Farrell authored a 612; Dick Howard engineered a 609; Ben Sanford clubbed a 608; Wally Petek clouted a 606; and Don Minklec laced a 601.

PEGGY McHUGH's 533 led the Starlighters League. Joan Huber had a 522; Nitta Galizia carded a 512; and Paula Bruck hit the 500 mark for the first time with 501. Bea Albright's 207 was high single.

Top team was Wynn Sales and Service with 734-2121.

HERMAN FOLKERTS pounded a 629 triple in the Overlook League. John Kent's 238 was top single. Schultz Insurance collected a 904 single while Folkerts Bros had 2584 for three games.

FRED McFEE paced the Mid City Three Man Classic with a 599 triple. High single was turned in by Jim Piro with a 247. Team honors went to the Ulster County Savings trio with 599-1718.

LOIS HILL climbed atop the Central Rec. Women's League with a 515. Team high single was 761 by Wig World and team high triple was 2176 by Stone Ridge Corner Store.

FRED FRANCELLO soared atop the Field Engineering League with 247-609. Jean Walker was first among the lady kегlers with 197-487.

HELEN RECK wrecked the New Drop League opposition with 211-588.

Ulster Squad Tops Dutchess

POUGHKEEPSIE

The soccer team from Ulster County Community College travelled to Poughkeepsie Saturday for a game with the Dutchess Booters and defeated DCCC, 4-1. Llew Knudsen tallied three in the fourth quarter after Klaus Weber scored in the first and Gerard Lee-Hing hit another in the second.

UCC is 3-3 on the season and host Post Junior College Tuesday, Rockland CC on Friday and Kingsboro CC on Saturday.

Ulster had 14 saves and 63 shots on goal. DCCC had 27 saves and 21 shots on goal.

Weber hit the first goal in the first period at 18:02. Lee-Hing dented the net at 7:53 of the second period.

Knudsen's first goal came at 15:25 in the fourth and at 18:51 of the same period.

"We are now functioning as a team the way we should have been all along," said UCCC coach George Vizvary. "The boys now realize that we have to play hard-nosed pressing soccer, American style, if we are to defeat our opponents. I was very impressed with the play of Bill Zeeh, Francis McPeak and all the 'young heroes,'" he concluded.

Miss Gengler Takes Title

NEW PALTZ

For the second straight year, the New Paltz State Campus was the scene of the Eastern Collegiate Tennis Tournament for Women. The event, staged this weekend, attracted 174 participants, representing 45 schools.

In the finals of the singles division, Marjorie Gengler, the number one seed from Princeton, defeated Barbara Kearns, Syracuse, 6-0, 6-0, in a game that was marred somewhat by cold, driving 30- to 40-mile-per-hour winds that howled in over the top of the outdoor court's protective wind screen.

In the semifinals, Miss

Gengler had beaten Mary Hotchkiss, Mary Baldwin College, 6-4, 6-2. Miss Kearns defeated Helena Novakova, Princeton, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2.

The consolation finals saw Mattie Harris, University of Buffalo, down Ronna Thur, Fairleigh-Dickinson, 6-3, 3-6, 6-2. Diana Parker and Talbot Jordan, Mary Baldwin, defeated classmates Katie Collville and Dean Garcia, 6-1, 6-2. The champions beat Vassar's team of Lisa Sullivan and Felicity Pool, 6-4, 6-1 in the semis.

The runners-up had downed Syracuse twins Karen and Kathy Murphy, 7-5, 6-3.

Next year's event is also planned for the State Campus.

Although they fumbled the ball 11 times, losing eight, two of them in the opening minutes of play, the Red Hook High School football team managed to ek out a 6-0 victory over visiting Haldane in the Dutchess County Scholastic League Bi-Valley Division.

The only Raider score came on a 51-yard end sweep by Darryl Work. The two-point conversion try failed.

Both teams played hard-nosed, rough and tumble football as a total 15 fumbles occurred. Haldane recovered three of their four fumbles.

Orange County Fair Speedway. Charles "Red" Farmer of Hueytown, Alabama, will be at the wheel of an all new John Lux Modified No. 39 for the race on Sunday.

An experienced driver on both the dirt tracks and asphalt, Farmer has competed on most of the major super speedways throughout the South and will look to the Eastern States race to add to his list of racing accomplishments.

Farmer will have to earn his starting spot through one of the four qualifying heats. Forty-six cars will start in the finals. Eighty-three entries have been received so far with that number expected to jump to over 125.

Gates will open on race day at 10 a.m. for general admission seats.

In the event of a postponement, the race will be held on the following Sunday.

Fran's Talented Feet Outclass Joe Kapp's Gun

UPENDED—Joe Kapp (11) of the Boston Patriots is upended by New York Giants' Ralph Heck (55) during last quarter action at Harbard Stadium Sunday. Kapp played entire game in debut with the Pats who lost, 16-0, before crowd of 69,000. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

They all came to see Joe Kapp's highly-touted arm and went home talking about Fran Tarkenton's highly talented feet.

Kapp's debut as starting quarterback for Boston turned into a bust Sunday as the scrambling Tarkenton ruined the Patriots' T-Party by directing a 16-0 New York Giant victory.

"We had the opportunities but I didn't take advantage of them," said a disappointed Kapp, who last started with Minnesota in the 1970 Super Bowl.

Tarkenton's foot-loose antics scrambled the Boston defense, offsetting the hard-charging Patriots' line while he riddled them with short, screen passes. He passed only 14 times, completing eight, for 102 yards in wind-harassed Harvard Stadium at Cambridge, Mass.

The Minnesota Vikings kayoed Dallas with a ferocious attack that left the Cowboys reeling on the end of a 54-13 score—their worst defeat ever—in another National Football League game.

Detroit and Denver, who lost for the first time this season last week, got back on the winning road with victories Sunday. Detroit blasted Cleveland 41-24 and Denver turned back Atlanta 24-10.

Pittsburgh beat Houston 7-3 in a defensive war; New Orleans tied San Francisco 20-20; Los Angeles whipped Green Bay 31-21; San Diego downed Chicago 20-7; Miami belted Buffalo 33-14; St. Louis cut down the Philadelphia Eagles 35-20; Baltimore avenged its Super Bowl defeat by beating the New York Jets 29-22 and Kansas City defeated Cincinnati 27-19.

Coach Clive Rush of Boston said the Patriots' game plan was to stop Tarkenton's screen passes.

"We just didn't do it," Rush said.

Kapp completed 10 of 22 passes. He also carried eight times for 41 yards, tops among Boston rushers. The Giants' defense held fullback Jim Nance to a mere 14 yards.

Coach Tom Landry of Dallas was philosophical about the Cowboys' biggest licking since their inception in 1960.

Ed Sharrockman, a defensive back, set the tone of the game as he ran back two touchdowns or a deflected punt and an intercepted pass and set up another with an interception in Minnesota's first half.

Bobby Howfield kicked a 51-yard field goal and Pete Liske pitched a six-yard scoring pass in the final period to break open a close game and help the Broncos beat the Falcons.

Bill Munson fired two touchdowns passes and Mike Weger scored another on an interception in a 2½-minute period that shot Detroit into a runaway 38-14 halftime lead.

Terry Bradshaw unfurled a 67-yard TD pass on the first play of the second quarter for the only touchdown of the game and a victory for the Steelers.

Clarence Williams swiped a Bart Starr pass in the closing minutes and shot 65 yards for a touchdown that nailed down Los Angeles' victory over the Packers.

John Had's two touchdown passes to Gary Garrison within a minute of the third quarter pulled out the San Diego triumph over the reeling Bears, who lost their third straight.

Two pass interceptions led to a pair of Miami touchdowns and a fumble recovery set up one of Gary Yepremian's four field goals. MacArthur Lane hit paydirt four times—three times rushing and the other on a reception—in the St. Louis victory.

Johnny Unitas whipped Baltimore into a 17-0 lead within 5½ minutes of the first period and the Colts hung on to beat the Jets, their conquerors in the 1968 Super Bowl.

Injured quarterback Len Dawson came off the bench to spark Kansas City to a comeback victory over the fired-up Bengals.

Colts Tumble Jets, 29-22, For a Wee Bit of Revenge

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Baltimore Colts gained a bit of revenge for their 1969 surprise defeat in the Super Bowl Sunday by burying the New York Jets for 1971.

The Colts, upset by the Jets 16-7 in that 1969 classic, got back at Joe Namath by intercepting six of his passes en route to a 29-22 victory Sunday, which just about ended the Jets' chances for the American Football Conference's Eastern Division title.

The loss left the Jets' last place in the EAST with a 1-4 record with the toughest part of their schedule still to come. Baltimore, on the other hand, now is 4-1 and tied with Miami for first place in the East.

Just as Namath was the hero in the 1969 Super bowl clash, so he was the goat in the Jets' loss Sunday.

Instead of picking apart the Colts' zone pass defense with short passes — as he did in the Super Bowl — Namath elected to throw the bomb and the results were horrifying to Jets' fans. Namath established a club record with 34 pass completions for 397 yards, but he passed the ball 62 times and his six interceptions also tied the club record he established in 1967.

Whereas Namath read the Colts defense perfectly in the Super Bowl, several of the Colts' players thought he misread the same defenses Sunday.

"I think he read some of our defenses wrong," said safety Jerry Logan, who intercepted three of Namath's passes and returned one of them 31 yards for a touchdown.

"I think Joe's Mackey with the best thrower in football and he reads defenses real well. But by Jim O'Brien, and on the today he had to wait a little Jets' first play Bubba Smith longer than he wanted to. To beat a zone like ours you gotta hit your spots. If you've got real good linebackers like we do, it's hard to beat."

"Joe's probably one of the best quarterbacks in the league. He and Sonny Jurgensen certainly are the best passers," said Johnny Unitas, who directed the Colts' attack with 12 completions in 24 attempts for 206 yards and one touchdown. "But today we had pretty good coverage and he tried to force the long ball. I think we should have had eight or nine interceptions instead of only six."

Namath, who came out of the game with a badly bruised hand in addition to a battered ego, did not agree he had misread the Colts' defense.

"I didn't misread it. I just threw the ball where I shouldn't have," Namath said. "I got to pressing. When you get behind, you start pressing. Sometimes, you just don't throw the ball perfect. Once they got ahead 10-0, they went to a prevent defense. We tried some running plays and they didn't work. So I had to throw the football."

"Any time you start throwing the football to a prevent defense you're going to get in trouble somewhere along the road. I had six passes intercepted, but I should have had 10. I threw some real poor ones, but they made some good interceptions on a couple, too."

The game actually was decided by 5:25 of the first quarter when the Colts jumped to a 17-0 lead. On the first play returned one of them 31 yards for a touchdown. "I think Joe's Mackey with the best thrower in football and he reads defenses real well. But by Jim O'Brien, and on the today he had to wait a little Jets' first play Bubba Smith

Despite their apparent failings, there was still a ray of optimism in the Jets' clubhouse from Linebacker Larry Grantham.

"We're still not out of it. We have nine games left. If we can get some of our people back, we're gonna still be in the race," said Grantham. "The way pro football is balanced today, I think it will take a 10-4 or 9-5 record to win our division. We can still put it together. People are gonna be in for a surprise if they think we're out of it."

In spite of Grantham's words the writers were making bets against them. The Jets' failures were further enhanced by the fact they gained only 37 yards rushing in 17 attempts and had 108 check on the clubhouse bulletin board would be gone before the week was out.

Racing Figures

WESTPORT, Conn. (UPI)—Sports Car Club of America's Trans-American Continental racing series set average attendance, prize money and participation records in 1970 according to a year-end summary released today.

Attendance in the Trans-American series reached 210,299 for 11 events, representing an increase in the average attendance per event for the fifth consecutive year. SCCA raised the minimum required prizes to $25,000 and prize money actually paid by race organizers reached a new high of $270,300, up from $209,675 in 1969 despite one less race. A total of 487 cars started in 1970 races compared to 380 in the previous year.

Onteora Hands New Paltz First UCAL Loss

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

NEW PALTZ

Onteora Central High spawned several heroes in its bone crushing, 15-14, squeaker over previously (UCAL) unbeaten New Paltz, 15-14, in the chill and winds surrounding Huguenot Field here Saturday.

But Coach Larry Karas of the victorious Boiceville Indians reacted in the traditional style of the fraternity. Dutifully noting all the offense heroics, he said, "Our defense played great. They hit hard and they forced New Paltz into six fumbles."

Two of Onteora's front line operators — Gary Guglielmetti, senior tackle, and Mark Cady, senior end, were missing because of illness and injuries. "The reserve kids showed they could pick up the slack. They're not big, but they're very quick and they hit hard."

Onteora's heroes, among others, include:

Vlad Hoyt, the golf whiz, who appears to have nailed down the quarterback spot, with a pair of TD passes and a vital extra point.

John Langling, the hard nosed halfback, who picked up 59 of Onteora's 120 yards rushing in 14 carries and rushed for the crucial two extra points that decided the game.

Wayne Fredericks, who made 17 tackles to send OCS historians scurrying for the record books to check if 'his isn't a school record for one game. If there is a better defensive back in the Ulster County Athletic League, OCA partisans haven't seen him yet."

John Palonis, the Huguenots' 6-2 205 pound linebacker got New Paltz on the scoreboard first in the first quarter when he blocked a kick on the OCS 35, picked up the ball and raced into the end zone for the TD.

Ackert failed in his bid for a two-point rush and that proved costly in the light of later events.

On the next kickoff, Onteora's 220-yard sprint ace, John Snyder almost cracked the New Paltz defense but was finally hauled down on the NP 25. Six plays later, Hoyt hit Ken Thompson from the 8 for his first TD aerial and then kicked the extra point to put the Indians ahead, 7-6. Langling contributed 11 yards to the drive and Hoyt picked up five on a keeper to offset a 5-yard offside penalty.

A fumble recovery by David

Nissen, a sophomore guard, followed by a holding penalty against New Paltz set up an PCS bid in the second quarter but it ended when George Clark blocked a field goal attempt by Hoyt from the 12-yard line.

Fredericks recovered a fumbled punt attempt by New Paltz on the Huguenot 43. A 14-yard penalty put the Huguenots back to their 16 but the drive sagged when Hoyt was trapped on the 12-yard on fourth down.

Nissen's second fumble recovered on the New Paltz 44, led to OCS's winning score. Langling picked up 18 yards on three slams, before Hoyt hit Eli Ashley on a 26-yard scoring pass. The most crucial play of the game followed when Langling rushed over the right side for the two-pointer to put OCS ahead, 15-6.

A 78-yard aerial from quarterback Jay Ackert to Brad Hart early in the fourth quarter put New Paltz on the board for the second time. Ackert rushed for two but the Huguenots still trailed by 15-14.

They did the most obvious thing. They put on an onside kick on the next kickoff which they recovered at midfield by Charles Johnson. The hosts marched to the OCS 29 where a fourth down bid missed by a foot.

OCS, now 2-2 in UCAL, travels to Pine Bush next week.

Only Boston Bruins Unsullied in NHL

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Hockey League season is barely one week old and only one team—the Stanley Cup champion Boston Bruins—remain undefeated.

And the way Bobby Orr and Company are going, they look like they plan to stay that way for quite a while, too.

The Bruins won their fourth straight Sunday, whipping Vancouver 5-3. That gave Boston 25 goals in the four victories—an average of better than six per game.

Boston's big gun so far has been Phil Esposito, who didn't manage a point Sunday but had five goals and five assists in the Bruins' first three starts. Esposito set an NHL scoring record with 126 points two years ago and was runner-up in the scoring race with 99 points last year.

Elsewhere in the NHL Sunday, New York tagged Montreal with its first loss, blanking the Canadiens 1-0. Philadelphia tripped Toronto 4-2, Minnesota edged Detroit 2-1, Pittsburgh tied Buffalo 1-1 and St. Louis and Chicago battled to a 2-2 standoff.

In Saturday's action, Montreal bombed Chicago 6-2, New York ripped Toronto 6-2, Detroit edged Minnesota 3-2, St. Louis dropped Buffalo 4-1, Los Angeles downed the renamed California Golden Seals 6-1, and Philadelphia and Pittsburgh played to a scoreless tie.

Scott Unhappy With 58 Points

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Charlie Scott scored 58 points in his first two games in the American Basketball Association—but the rookie pro from North Carolina thinks he can improve.

Scott led the Virginia Squires to a 103-88 victory over the New York Nets Sunday with 29 points and 12 rebounds. On Saturday night he also tallied 29 points in leading the Squires over Pittsburgh.

"I'm not satisfied with my start," confessed the 6-foot-6 Scott after Sunday's game against the Nets. "I think I will have better judgment on shooting, passing off and getting position for rebounds after I learn the league."

Indiana made it three straight by defeating Texas 134-113. Kentucky whipped Carolina 121-115 and the Floridians beat Pittsburgh 125-115 in Sunday's other ABA games.

In Sunday's only National Basketball Association contest the Boston Celtics bowled over Portland's Trail Blazers 133-115.

In Saturday's ABA action Virginia blitzed Pittsburgh 133-116 and Kentucky downed Denver 109-103 and, in NBA play, Milwaukee overhauled Atlanta 107-98. Chicago nipped New York 99-96, Baltimore beat Los Angeles 118-116 in overtime, San Diego belted Buffalo 102-93, Philadelphia crushed Cincinnati 123-105, Seattle ripped Boston 126-114, Detroit slipped by Phoenix 110-107 and San Francisco clobbered Cleveland 128-108.

Kentucky rookie Dan Issel scored 30 points Sunday in leading the Colonels over the Cougars. Exactly half of the 30 came in the last quarter as the Colonels held off a rally by Carolina.

Bill Keller with 32 and Roger Brown with 30 combined to pace the unbeaten Pacers over the Chaparrals. Mack Calvin threw in 41 points to pace the Floridians over Pittsburgh. John Brisker scored 44 for the losing Condors.

Led by John Havlicek's 37 points, the Celtics had little trouble beating Portland for their first victory in the new NBA campaign. Rookie Dave Cowens led Boston in rebounds with 20.

New Kind of 'Record' For Winner Jacklin

By HARVEY HUDSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PARIS (AP) — Tony Jacklin, after another demonstration that he ranks in the top flight of the world's best golfers, says that he's going to try to tap another mass market—as singer on a long playing record.

The British ace golfer, with the curly hair and winning smile of a matinee idol, Sunday won the Paris Tournament of Champions, limited to eight of the best of the current golfing crop, with an eagle at the 17th and a birdie at the 18th.

He finished the 54-hole tournament with a closing 68 for a 206 total beating out Arnold Palmer of the United States and Ramon Sota of Spain by one stroke.

His next project is to spend Wednesday singing 14 songs for both sides of the long playing record. When asked what kinds of songs they would be, he said, "I'll send you a copy." Then, with a second thought, he said, "No. You'd better buy a copy."

Jacklin, the 1969 British Open winner and 1970 U.S. Open champion, took the top prize of $10,000 dollars, literally snatching it out of the hands of Palmer, who had finished previously, and Sota, who was playing with him.

The Paris Tournament, which was organized as a sweet smelling competition sponsored by a perfume maker to whet interest in golf in France, finished deep in the red.

Last week it was Michigan State's Duffy Daugherty who labled Ohio State No. 1 and Notre Dame No. 1-A. Now it's Minnesota's Murray Warmath and Missouri's Dave Devine who rate them as close.

"You sort of wonder if they are No. 1 when you come in here, but they are," said Warmath after dropping a 28-0 decision to top-rated Ohio State Saturday. "We couldn't get the ball away from them in the first quarter."

"I don't want to get into a No. 1 hassle, but if there's anybody better than Notre Dame I haven't seen them yet," said Devine, whose team actually led the Irish 7-3 in the third period before bowing 24-7.

For the time being, though, Ohio State and Notre Dame will have to settle for being No. 1 and No. 3, respectively, in the Associated Press College football poll. Second-ranked Texas, also one of 11 unbeaten and untied major teams, didn't play Saturday.

Fourth-ranked Mississippi, however, and the Rebels dropped a shocking 30-14 decision to revenge-bent Southern Mississippi, seething from a 69-7 slaughter a year ago.

The four other Top Ten Teams with unbeaten records came through with victories. Fifth-ranked and once-tied Nebraska upended Kansas 41-20 and took over the Big Eight lead. No. 6 Michigan outlasted Michigan State 34-20, seventh-ranked Air Force whipped Navy 26-3 and Auburn, No. 8, trounced 16th-ranked Georgia Tech 31-7.

Stanford, ranked ninth, wallowed Washington State 63-16 as Jim Plunkett set a major college career total offense mark. Tenth-ranked Arkansas was idle.

Other teams with perfect records are Arizona State, Dartmouth, San Diego State, Toledo and Yale.

John Brockington, who rambled for 187 yards, and Rex Kern each scored twice in the first 21 minutes as Ohio State shot ahead of Minnesota.

"That first quarter (21-0) was as fine as we've looked," said Coach Woody Hayes. "I hate to admit it, but I think we got tired after that."

Joe Theismann, bothered by Missouri's defensive line, speeded up his delivery and rallied Notre Dame over the Tigers with touchdown passes to Tom Gatewood and Ed Gulyas.

Southern Mississippi kept Archie Manning—30 of 56 for 341 yards—and company off the greatest, passing for 312 yards score after the first period and running for 42 as the Tigers and posted a memorable upset ripped Georgia Tech. And Stan as Rick Donegan directed a ford's Plunkett passed and ran fired-up offense and Willie Hei-for 275 yards, bringing his total delberg galloped for a pair of offense to 6,630 yards and eras 11-yard touchdowns.

ing the 6,568 set last year by Nebraska, down 20-10, topped Steve Ramsey of North Texas Kansas on the passing (two State.

TDs) and running (two more) of quarterback Van Brownson, making his first start of the season.

Billy Taylor's third touchdown snapped a 13-all halftime stalemate and triggered Michigan 13th-ranked Colorado 25-13.

Tennessee, ranked 14th, past stubborn arch-rival Michigan State, Brian Bream's school record 214 rushing yards and gave Bill Battle a 24-0 victory two TDs paced Air Force pasty over his former coach Bear Navy, although Mike McNallen Eryant, No. 15 Louisiana State set a career pass completion made two first-half touchdowns record for the Middies with 308, stand up for a 14-7 triumph over Auburn's Pat Sullivan had his 17, fell to Mississippi State 20-16 Wright with 1:17 remaining and Houston and UCLA, tied for Dennis Dummit's three-yard 19th, pulled out their games in sweep with four seconds left the late stages. The Cougars gave the Uclans a 24-21 win over beat Oregon State 19-16 on Ter-California.

Dear Abby

About Plastic Surgery

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
(© 1970 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I have two questions to ask you, both about plastic surgery.

How old must a girl be before she can have plastic surgery on her nose? My daughter is 17, and fully developed and mature for her age. She needs to have her nose made smaller and can hardly wait, but I was told that no reputable plastic surgeon would do that operation on a girl until she was 18. Is that true?

Also, my mother is interested in having a face-lift, but she was told by a friend that a woman reaches 60, she is too old for a face-lift, as it takes too long to heal. My mother is 62, and recently widowed. She is a good looking woman but her skin is wrinkled. Would a face-lift on a woman her age?

If you think my questions are of sufficient interest to use in your column, you may do so, but please keep me anonymous. "A BEVERLY HILLSER"

Dear Bev: Dr. Eugene Worton, (also a "Beverly Hillser" and a top-notch plastic surgeon) says that no reputable plastic surgeon would operate on a girl's nose unless he saw the girl and felt that in his opinion she was fully developed and mature enough for such surgery. (Some 17-year-olds are — some are not.) And as for your mother: Sixty-two is not too old. It depends upon the general health and mental attitude of the woman. (Dr. Worton recently did a face lift on a 71-year-old woman, who bounced back like a teen-ager!)

DEAR ABBY: In response to the letter from "ERNE'S GIRL" — the one whose fiancé wanted her to wear a chastity belt. I sympathize deeply with her because I am 15 years old and my parents make me wear one. I feel like I live in a gas station because I have to ask for the key every time I want to go to the bathroom. And you should see the stares I get from the girls in the locker room in gym class!

Abby, I have tried my best to behave in a way that would show my parents that they can trust me, but they make me wear this thing anyway. I don't think it is fair to be punished for something I haven't even done. What should I do?

L.N.
DEAR L.N.: When you are of age you can leave home. In the meantime don't trust a YALE man (a locksmith, I mean). And to earn a little money in preparation for leaving home, try your hand at some creative writing. You're doing fine.

DEAR ABBY: I read in your column that a couple were considering adopting a child to be a companion for their 7-year-old daughter, and I was shocked at your suggestion that they take a foster child for a while to see how it works out.

Abby, a foster child is not a guinea pig to be used as an experiment to see how it "works out."

I cannot for the life of me understand how you, a supposedly intelligent and compassionate person could ever give such advice.

PHILA. READER

DEAR READER: I suggested a "foster" child instead of an adopted child, because foster children are placed in homes on a temporary basis, while adopted children are another matter.

DEAR ABBY: A word to that silly girl who signed herself "LOVES HAIR IN HOOVERVILLE," and can't think of anything more romantic than running her toes thru the hair on a man's chest:

Just wait until she has spent two or three months running her toes thru the hair in the bathtub!

CARROLL RIGHTER'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Some of your friends are apt to be overemotional and get to their feelings too easily injured. You would be wise to watch this closely in yourself so that you handle it in an objective, rather than a subjective, manner. No one will like a cry-baby, not you or any of your friends, so steer clear of this behavior.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You can do little along career lines today, so help family members with theirs, since they need assistance. Don't be tempted into an argument at home. Institute harmony that has been sadly needed.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Attend to your own business and stop giving others advice they don't want or need. Save time, make money. You may not agree with others, but this is not the time to get into arguments with anyone.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You feel you have to appease another by spending more money than your share. But don't. Being firm is wise. Go over your financial position carefully and see where to make wise investments.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you feel the world is against you and making your life miserable, just analyze what you are doing wrong and correct. Stop brooding. Seek out persons with fine ideas. Listen and then put in operation.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If there are conditions that do not please, get them changed yourself instead of relying on others. Come to right decision quickly. Assist those who need your help very badly this evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you make it your business to criticize others for their mistakes, you could invite trouble in the days ahead. Save money.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Many conditions need action. First, study every phase of the situations so that you can later act intelligently. Steer clear of a dynamic person who eyes your assets. Don't be taken in.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Your intuition is not working properly now, so use your logic. Otherwise, you could get into trouble. Control your temper with an ally who is feeling out of sorts. Provoking others could bring dire results now.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you smile at associate's complaints, you save the situation. Otherwise there could be trouble. Wait for a better day to come to new agreements with others. The planets are not with you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have many duties to attend to and do not get much cooperation from fellow workers, but persevere on your own and all is fine. Taking health treatments will help you greatly. Relax in the evening.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't rely on friends to accompany you for a good time, since they are otherwise preoccupied today, but carry on yourself quietly. Your busy mate could be quite demanding. Try to be of assistance.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those young people who will feel hurt at every little slight because of a sensitive nature. Teach early the need to be understanding of other people's problems and then you make a fine individual of your progeny. Ideal chart for catering to the public; selling, the department store owner or worker, the nurse, the doctor, etc. Give as much education as you can afford.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for November is now ready. For a copy, send your birthdate and $1 to Carroll Righter Forecast, The Daily Freeman, Box 629, Hollywood, Calif. 90028. (© 1970, McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Timely Quotes

I get personal attention that far outstrips my importance. The Army is hyperconscious about me.

—War correspondent Robert Ridenhour of Dispatch News Service in Vietnam, whose letter-writing campaigns as an ex-GI helped bring about investigation of the alleged My Lai massacre.

Man's duty is not to be a hero, which is making a virtue of misery, and not to be a saint, which is making a misery of virtue. It is solely to become wise.

—Manes Sperber, European psychologist.

To the extent that politics is a dirty business—and, like any business it can be so, of course—it is not likely to get less so because people are apathetic about it.

—Richard W. Lyman, president of Stanford University.

I'm trying to protect women from their fool friends and from themselves.

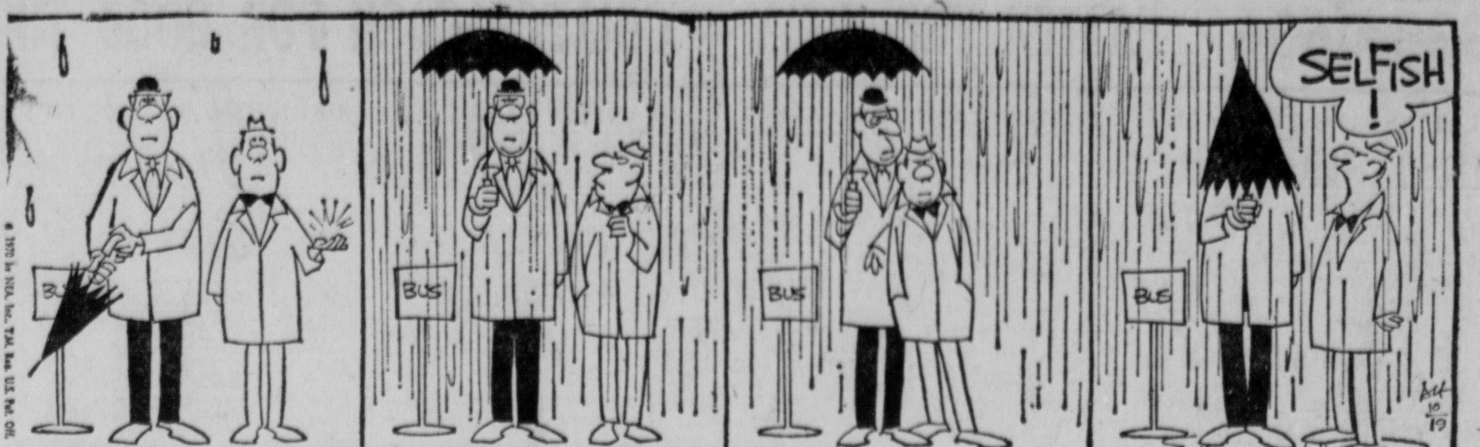

—Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., on his amendment to the proposed equal-rights-for-women amendment that would continue draft exemptions for women.

Let us foster all that unites us and not that which divides us. Let us give the world cause to say: These were dedicated men. They did not posture and postpone, but strove humbly and honestly to lighten the afflictions that weigh so heavily on mankind.

—Dr. Edvard Hambro, president of the General Assembly, as the United Nations observed its 25th anniversary.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

DIFFERENT: (Comment) I am different from other people. At first this bothered me. Nothing I did was wrong. It was just not what the ordinary person did.

Then I read some wise words of another person who was different. This true individualist, Henry David Thoreau, said: "If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away."

I believe these words Thoreau put down in "Walden" fit today's world well.—A Boy With Good Ears in Greensboro, N.C.

(A.) You, like Henry David Thoreau, appear to be genuinely, honestly different, and called by real, authentic music. A boy must be very careful when he hears what he thinks is "a different drummer." He may not hear music at all, but just a noise, an excuse to wander into some path that leads to darkness and a dead end.

A girl must be similarly careful.

Be yourself, but truly, deeply yourself. Do not be lured along shallow streams or up false roads. This is especially important today.

LISTENER: (Q.) I can truly say that the treatment I've got from my own generation is no better than that I've got from my own parents. I must take it from both the old man and the young because I like classical music. No one else likes it. Everyone covers at the name of Dimitri Shostakovich.

Now, why must I be persecuted for something that is innocent and harmless like listening to the music I love?—Persecuted in Bristol, Conn.

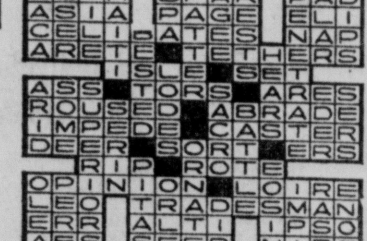

(A.) If you listen to it because you love it, keep listening. If you listen just to be "different," ask yourself if it is really worth it.

'Hogan's Heroes' Stand Pat

HOGAN'S HEROES — HD NEW YORK (AP) — "Hogan's Heroes," now in their sixth year in Col. Klink's camp, have been prisoners of war for a longer time than the United States was involved in fighting World War II.

When the series started, the question was whether a comedy series based on something as grim as life in a German prisoner-of-war camp could succeed without offending. Obviously, it could.

"Hogan's Heroes" is total fantasy. Each week, the audience permits itself to believe for one half hour that there could be a merry band of war prisoners, who could tunnel an ant hill under the camp, enter and leave at will, use a converted coffee pot for radio transmissions to and from England. It must be lieve there could be people like the principals—the all-wise, casual Hogan; vain, glib Klink and the comic strip character, Sgt. Schultz.

Every now and then there has been a minor change in the cast but the basic recipe never changes. Each week the smart prisoners outwit their ridiculous strutting captors, the Nazis.

On Sunday night, stars Bob Crane (Hogan) and Werner Klemperer (Klink) wound up a two-part episode in which Hogan and company personally succeeded in persuading Hitler to send out an invasion fleet. Word that the car in which the body was had been sunk was delivered as a comedy line accompanied by the sound of laughter on the laugh track.

NBC, on short notice Sunday, preempted a rerun of a "Wild Kingdom" program for an instant special about the emergence of keeping up with the story.

IT'S OFFICIAL—Anwar Sadat stands as he is sworn in as President of Egypt to succeed the late Gamal Abdel Nasser whose foreign and domestic policies he has pledged to continue until Arab territory occupied by Israel in the 1967 war has been recovered. (UPI CABLE-

Fawzi May Be Next Premier

By United Press International
The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said today President Anwar Sadat will name an "outstanding personality" as premier of Egypt. Political observers said it probably would be veteran career diplomat Mahmoud Fawzi.

Sadat will present his choice to the Central Committee of the Arab Socialist Union (ASU) Tuesday for endorsement. Although the newspaper did not specify who it would be, from the description it appeared it would be Fawzi, 70, a soft-spoken old school diplomat who rose through the ranks to become foreign affairs advisor to the late Gamal Abdel Nasser.

Another shuffle of top government leaders also was due in Syria, the most left wing of the Arab nations. Nureddin Atassi resigned as president and prime minister and the Baath party was expected to call a congress within a few days to name his successor.

In Beirut, Arab political sources said a top contender was Lt. Gen. Mustafa Tlas, the Syrian chief of staff. Tlas is the most prominent of the Sunni Moslems in Syria after Atassi—and the Syrian presidency is reserved for a person of that religion.

Trouble continued to flare between Arab guerrillas and government troops in Jordan despite the cease-fire. The troops besieged four villages near the Syrian border, the result of a weekend of fighting. Arab truce officials sought to set up a local cease-fire, but weekend attempts to end the fighting failed.

Baghdad Radio claimed the fighting spread to Aman late Sunday.

In Israel Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, indicated Israel may have to settle for less than total withdrawal of Soviet-built missiles from the Egypt section of the standstill zone along the Suez Canal.

Dayan said that the missile issue has brought a confrontation between the United States and Russia and "the question of removing the missiles from the standstill zone has now become an issue between the two lawyers. Indeed, it is now a matter of American prestige."

On Canal Violations

No U.S. Decision on Evidence

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.S. government has not decided whether to show the U.N. General Assembly evidence of Egyptian-Soviet violations of the Suez Canal cease-fire, U.S. officials said today.

The U.S. decision, they said, will be heavily influenced by how the debate shapes up when the General Assembly takes up the Middle East situation next Monday, right after the U.N.'s 25th anniversary observance.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers expects to take up the Middle East, Berlin and other questions with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko tonight, but Rogers has already received Gromyko's denial of Soviet involvement in the alleged violations.

On Sunday Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad denied new Soviet anti-aircraft missiles had been moved into the truce zone and said aerial photos which the United States continues to prove nothing. Israel says it will not come to the proposed Arab-Israeli peace negotiations unless there is a missile rollback. Rogers wants enough "rectification" of the alleged violations to bring the Middle East back to the indirect negotiations.

In the U.S. view, Egypt—which asked for the U.N. debate to relieve the onus of the violation charges and swing world opinion against the United States.

Riad, speaking on ABC's "Issues and Answers," took the line that Washington made the charges as a pretext to break a commitment not to ship new weapons to Israel.

Israeli Premier Golda Meir arrived Sunday night for the U.N. session and said Riad's weapons charge was not productive.

"Making speeches at one another never solved any problems," Mrs. Meir said. "All Riad and his government have to do is recreate the situation according to the cease-fire agreement and talks can begin immediately."

Rogers says he has spent hours going over the U.S. photos—reportedly taken by U2 reconnaissance planes—"and the evidence is conclusive that they have moved missiles in."

Riad said missiles installed before the Aug. 8 cease-fire have been moved often for their security and photos therefore show what look like new ones. Such work as the sandbagging of missile sites also could look like new construction, he said.

Rogers after a four-hour session with Gromyko Friday night was said to have decided nothing could be gained then by showing evidence of the violations to the Soviet representative.

Tonight's dinner meeting at the American's hotel suite is their last scheduled private get-together, during their attendance at the U.N. fall session.

War, Peace Issues

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Foreign ministers' meetings on war-and-peace issues are being arranged for Wednesday and Friday at the United Nations.

The U.N. Security Council is expected to meet Wednesday afternoon with perhaps 14 of the 15 members represented by foreign ministers.

The Big Four foreign ministers, after joining in the council session, will get together again Friday night at a working dinner given by Secretary-General U Thant in his 38th-floor office suite.

Both gatherings are taking place this week because the ministers are attending the General Assembly's 11-day 25th anniversary session, now moving toward a ceremonial close Saturday.

The U.N. charter, which took effect 25 years ago next Saturday, provides that the Security Council "shall hold periodic meetings" to which each country on the council may send a member of its government if it wants.

Diplomatic sources said the council, at Finland's urging, had agreed to hold the first such session in its history on Wednesday. Nepal is the only council member whose foreign minister may not be present.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers, British Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home, French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko will be following an annual custom when they have dinner with Thant Friday.

They are expected to discuss the questions of security for Europe, peace for Indochina and a settlement for the Middle East.
